PRICE THREE CENTS

$736 TAKEN BY TWO YOUNG MEN IN OFFICE HOLDUP

Newspaper Branch Agency at 3232 Olive Street Robbed Soon After Opening for the Day.

MONEY TAKEN FROM POCKETS AND SAFE

George L. Mareschal Compelled to Open Strongbox After $536 Is Stolen From Him and Another.

Two young men carrying revolvers, and shielding the lower part of their faces with newspapers, held up George L. Mareschal and Harry Bournstein in Mareschal's newspaper branch agency at 3232 Olive street at 10:30 a. m. today. They said about $736 was taken from their pockets and from a safe.

Place Had Just Opened.

Mareschal had opened the place a short time before and was about to open the safe when Bournstein came in. Bournstein is superintendent of newboys at Grand avenue and Olive street. Because of the fight Saturday, the receipts were unusually large.

The two young men followed Bournstein into the place, and Mareschal said later that they took $400 from him, while Bournstein said $136 was taken from him. They then demanded Mareschal said, that he open the safe.

Mareschal said one of the robbers stood on either side of him as he knelt before the safe, and that they prodded him with their revolvers, causing him at one time to fall over.

"Get up and get busy," he says they told him. When he opened the safe they took the contents—about $200.

The men, after leaving the place, ran west in an alley, first climbing over an asphalt.

"WELCOME" SIGNS GREET DEPUTY WHO GUARDS MERAMEC MORALS

William A. Rosenthal, on Three-Day Trip, Finds Conditions Along River "Very Good."

Deputy Sheriff William A. Rosenthal of St. Louis County, assigned to a morals patrol of the Meramec River, said yesterday after a three-day holiday vigilance, that the conditions along the river were "very good." "Of course where any large number of persons congregate," he said, "there will be some who will need watching."

Rosenthal paddled from Pacific to Valley Park Saturday and Sunday, and yesterday motored about from Valley Park to Meramec Highlands. He said that he ordered several women to leave the river because of insufficient attire and that he "got a line" on several club houses which were not what they should be. He added that several other clubs displayed signs, "Welcome, Rosenthal."

A contrary opinion was expressed in a sign suspended from the Frisco Railroad bridge across the Meramec River at Deicke, where hundreds of canoeists could see it. There was a caricature supposed to represent Rosenthal on an upper corner of the sign and beneath it the inscription: "Welcome, Rosenthal—Blasé! Hot splash."

HAYS REINSTATES 10 OF 11 CHICAGO UNION POSTAL WORKERS

Postmaster-General Orders Men Suspended by Bureau for Union Activities Taken Back.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 5.—Postmaster-General Will H. Hays has signed an order directing the reinstatement of 10 of the 11 Postal Union leaders who were dismissed from the Chicago Postoffice a year ago. Former Postmaster-General Burleson because of their union activities.

Hays ordered a new investigation made when he took office, assigning an inspector to the task. On the inspector's report the Postmaster-General found all but Pierce Butler, president of the postal clerks' union here, were entitled to reinstatement.

Hays signed the order at Washington last week.

The ten will be reemployed as soon as the civil service records are certified.

The total gate receipts of the Dempsey-Carpenter boxing contest amounted to $1,623,380. "Tex" Rickard, promoter of the bout, announced last night. The net receipts have not been calculated.

EXCURSIONISTS FROM ILLINOIS SLEEP IN PARKS IN MICHIGAN

Thousands Unable to Find Space on Boats From Resorts After Holidays.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 5.—So many excursionists from Chicago and Northern Illinois visited Michigan resorts during the week-end that when they all started returning last night the boats were unable to handle the many thousands seeking transportation, and scores were trampled in the rush for ships at several points. Many who returned via steam and electric lines bore rumors that a ship, the "Hank," probably originating, it was said, in the fancied scarcity of ships.

MODEST HERO PULLS WOMAN FROM RIVER NEAR NIAGARA FALLS

Victim of Heat Falls in Stream, Another Woman Sees Her, Faints and Falls in Also.

By the Associated Press.
NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., July 5.—One woman was overcome with heat today and tumbled into the Niagara River a short distance above the American Falls, and another, fainting from excitement, followed her. Both were rescued.

The first woman, Mrs. Joseph Raines of this city, was seated in the State reservation on a ledge near the water's edge, with a woman companion. Persons resting near the Goat Island bridge saw Mrs. Raines slip and the other woman slip into the river and sounded the alarm.

Several men responded and fished Mrs. Raines' companion out of the water. Meanwhile Mrs. Raines had been carried 15 feet from shore and was floating along toward the falls when a man, who later refused to give his name, seized a rope and waded out after her.

Edward Hager of Wrightsville, N. J., had obtained the rope from his automobile. The unidentified man, taking one end, ran along the shore, passing the woman as she was being carried downstream. He moved out in the water directly from shore, and the other woman followed him. By George Healey of this city. Then he seized the woman when the current brought her to him and he towed her to shore.

MISSOURI CROPS EXCELLENT, BLACKBERRIES UNUSUALLY FINE

Wheat Harvest Is Near Completion and Much Corn Is Shoudered

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
COLUMBIA, Mo., July 5.—The recent heavy rains have stopped cultivation of corn and held up the harvest of wheat somewhat, according to the report of the United States Department of Agriculture Weather Bureau here. However, the weather was ideal for the growth of corn, the report says. The condition of corn crop is excellent and in many places it is shoudered high.

Although wheat harvest was interrupted, it is nearly completed and a considerable portion of the crop was dead ripe before the reaper could get it.

Cutting of oats is proceeding slowly and many of the fields are still uncut.

Meadows, pastures, garden and truck in general are good to excellent. Much hay is ready for cutting and is awaiting favorable weather, according to the report.

Blackberries are unusually fine this year and a good crop is expected.

FORT NORMAN OIL DIDN'T FREEZE AT 58 BELOW ZERO

Prospectors, on Way to Edmonton to Record Claims, Believe Pipe Line Would Be Feasible.

By the Associated Press.
DAWSON, Y. T., July 5.—Oil struck in the Fort Norman region is of such high grade that it did not freeze last winter, even when the atmosphere was 58 below zero, according to a party of several prospectors headed by James MacDonald, which left here yesterday for Edmonton to record claims. The oil, when exposed to the air, flowed like water, the prospectors reported. And this, they declared, indicates that a pipe line to the coast would be feasible. When they reach Edmonton they will have traveled 8500 miles from Fort Norman.

JUDGE REFUSES TO QUASH WORLD SERIES INDICTMENT

Trial of 18 Ball Players and Alleged Gamblers on Conspiracy Charges Begins Today.

JURY TO BE SELECTED FROM VENIRE OF 100

Attorneys, in Fight on Indictments, Try to Show Men Played Better in Series Than Since.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 5.—Judge Hugo Friend today overruled the motion to quash the general conspiracy indictment against 18 former baseball players and alleged gamblers in connection with the 1919 world's series scandal. The defense immediately moved that the State be required to elect on which of the 12 counts it will press trial.

Judge Friend denied the defense's plea that the State be required to elect which count the trial should proceed on, and ordered the case to proceed under the full indictment.

The defense then asked for a bill of particulars.

The State announced that Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, high commissioner of baseball, would be called to refute the claim advanced by the defense that baseball players are not under contract to their clubs during world's series games. The State's attorney also said he would ask Judge Friend to hold night sessions of court to speed up the trial.

Judge Friend finally allowed the motion of the defense for a bill of particulars on the first three counts. These counts are:

Conspiracy to commit a confidence game on Charles Nims.

Conspiracy to obtain money under false pretenses from Charles Nims.

Conspiracy to commit a confidence game.

Selection of the jury was expected to begin immediately upon reconvening court at 2 o'clock, after the noon recess.

The actual trial of the scandal case will start today with the selection of a jury from a special venire of 100 men, which will probably take the greater part of two weeks, owing to the wide publicity given the case.

Had the court ruled favorably on the motion to quash, the State would have been forced to discard the main indictment charging conspiracy on 12 counts, and take up some of the indictments for minor charges. Attorneys for the eight former White Sox players and alleged gamblers indicted made a strong fight to have the indictments quashed, and attempted to show that the players indicted played better ball during the series than during the season ended.

It is reported that the State has prepared a list of 40 new witnesses to be sprung as a surprise on the defense. William "Bully" Burns, former pitcher, and one of those indicted; Joe Gedeon, former second baseman for the St. Louis Browns; and Mahard, alleged Philadelphia gambler, will probably be the State's main witnesses.

The defendants who will actually be placed on trial if the case goes before a jury are: Edward Cloutier, Claude Williams, Arnold "Chic" Gandil, Charles "Swede" Risberg, Joe Jackson, Oscar Felsch, Carl Zork, Ben Levi, Louis Levi, David Zeiser and George "Buck" Weaver.

Burns also is a defendant, but it was indicated that he would not actually be placed on trial. His name has been included among the witnesses for the prosecution, and it was believed that he had been granted immunity.

LODGE DEFEATED IN ATTEMPT TO RECESS SENATE

Massachusetts Senator Introduces Resolution to Take Four Weeks Adjournment While Waiting on House.

SIXTEEN REPUBLICANS OPPOSE THE ACTION

Hours of Heated Debate Precede Vote, Members Declaring Tariff and Finance Demand Action.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 5.—The Senate today rejected, 27 to 24, a concurrent resolution offered by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the Republican leader, proposing a four-week adjournment of the Senate from July 9 to Aug. 8.

Sixteen Republicans voted against the Lodge resolution and five Democrats—Glass, Virginia; Robinson, Arkansas; Underwood, Alabama; Walsh, Montana, and Williams, Mississippi, supported the Republican adjournment plan.

Senator Lodge's proposal threw the Senate into hours of heated debate with the temperature close to the 100 mark. A number of Republicans and also Democrats, principally those of the Agricultural "Bloc" and the tariff and tax measures, opposed the adjournment, while Senator Underwood of Alabama, the Democratic leader, and others supported it, declaring Congress could get a summer respite at no other time, with tariff and tax legislation coming on next month.

Progress of Legislation.
During the debate there was some discussion of progress made by the Senate in the House of Representatives. Senators Fletcher of Florida and Simmons of North Carolina, Democrats, charged that the Republicans had not kept their campaign promises. Senator New, Republican, Indiana, replied that Congress could not be charged with being dilatory with the tariff and tax legislation, citing the history of past fiscal bills ranging from six to nine months.

Senator Underwood said the Republican had not yet had time to mature their financial legislation, but urged that tax revision be expected.

In the midst of the debate, large palm leaf fans were distributed. Action on Special Bills Urged.
Chairman Norris of the Agriculture committee urged action on his farm production export corporation measure, while Senator Sterling, Republican, South Dakota, in charge of the act, urged that the measure be passed.

Senator Kenyon told the Senate his duty was to stay in session, although, he added, "it may be more pleasant for members to sit on the cool porch of some summer hotel, to pursue the futile golf ball or to partake of a Veldstad hamburger."

Declaring the situation of the farmers to be serious, Senator La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, advised Senators from agricultural sections not to go home even if an adjournment were taken for, he said, "you will be happy sweating here in Washington."

PUBLIC FUNERAL PLANNED FOR ENRIGHT, OF THE FIRST THREE

Resolution in Pittsburgh City Council for Half Holiday; Body on Transport at Hoboken.

By the Associated Press.
PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 5.—Plans were started here today for a great public and military funeral for Thomas F. Enright, Pittsburgh, one of the first three American soldiers killed in France during the world war. The date for the funeral has not yet been set, but it will be held on an army transport at Hoboken.

A resolution will be introduced in City Council today to have Mayor Babcock declare a half holiday for the day of the funeral. The American Legion, assisted by all other military organizations of the city, will have charge of the services, which are to be held in St. Paul's Cathedral.

Frisco's Shops Reopen.

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Mo., July 5.—The locomotive shops of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railway Co. here were reopened today, giving employment to between 800 and 900 men. The shops had been closed since January. The Frisco's working force here is still about 1400 under normal.

DEFENSE HAS SIX WOMEN REMOVED FROM KABER JURY

Effort to Exclude Women Begun as Soon as Twelve Tentatively Chosen Are Seated.

LAST ONE EXCUSED AFTER NOON RECESS

Prosecutor Announces Satisfaction With Panel—Woman on Trial for Murder of Invalid Husband.

By the Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, July 5.—Defense counsel in the trial of Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber for planning the murder of her invalid husband, Daniel F. Kaber, continued their fight at resumption of the trial today to eliminate women from the jury.

No sooner had the jury box been tentatively filled with six women and six men, than Attorney William J. Corrigan, counsel for Mrs. Kaber, peremptorily objected to Mrs. Rose Oliver, the second woman tentatively accepted last week.

A man was tentatively seated in Mrs. Oliver's place and Mr. Corrigan immediately took a second woman from the tentative panel. He excused Mrs. Fish, the third woman tentatively accepted.

Following the dismissal of Mrs. Oliver and Mrs. Fish, Corrigan peremptorily excused Mrs. Clara Brackett. Her place was taken by a man.

Prosecutor Stanton then accepted the panel, forfeiting one of his four peremptory challenges.

Attorney Corrigan then excused Mrs. Luthy and Mrs. Krause, who had been tentatively accepted earlier in the day.

The defense still has 11 peremptory challenges left, and the State three. This left 11 tentative jurors in the box at the noon recess.

The last woman on the Kaber jury, Mrs. Cora K. Burg, was excused this afternoon by Attorney Corrigan.

ALLEGED GIRL FORGER IS SURRENDERED ON HER BOND

Surety for Marian Walker Says He Has Heard She Is Continuing to Pass Bad Checks.

Marian Walker, 21 years old, charged with forgery, was surrendered on her bond in the Court of Criminal Correction today by John C. Oehler, who was her surety for $4000. He stated that he did not want to be responsible for her any longer because he had been informed that she was continuing to pass forged checks.

Miss Walker escaped May 25 from two special policemen in the Arcade Building, while pretending to set a trap for an accomplice. While the policemen guarded two exits she escaped through another. She was arrested May 30. Oehler went on her bond two weeks ago. She is charged in a warrant issued Saturday with forgery in the second degree in connection with a $10 check which she passed June 27 on a firm in the Arcade Building.

DISARMAMENT FAVORED BY MAJORITY OF JAPANESE

Poll Taken by Former Minister on Tour Show 94 Per Cent of 100,000 of This Plan to Reduce Taxes.

By the Associated Press.
TOKIO, July 4.—Yukio Ozaki, former Minister of Justice, on the conclusion of a 10,000-mile campaign of the empire in behalf of limitation of armaments, a campaign unparalleled in Japan's political history, declared his conviction today that if the United States Government proposed a conference on limitation of armaments it would meet with an eager response throughout the length and breadth of Japan.

M. Ozaki, whose achievements have made him the foremost Japanese Liberal, added: "I should like to convey this message to the people of the United States: If the American Government proposes an international conference to discuss restriction of armaments it will surely be the beginning of a solution of all the diplomatic questions between Japan and the United States. If we are unable to prevent the clearly unnecessary wasteful naval competition, how can we expect to solve other irritable and complicated questions between our two countries? The latter will easily adjust themselves when the former has been settled."

M. Ozaki explained that he spoke in almost all the important cities and towns from Kyushu in the farthest South, to Hokkaido, in the farthest North, addressing more than 100,000 persons at 100 meetings, large and small, at which post cards were distributed freely, so that his hearers could vote on disarmament. The final result on the returns from these cards, he asserted, showed that 94 per cent favored limitation.

The intense endeavor of M. Ozaki appears to have awakened the nation to the fact that armament restriction is the supreme problem of the era for Japan.

It is in the highest official quarters elicited confirmation of previous statements that the Government will welcome a conference on limitation.

It is his instructions to the grand jury Judge Landwehr reviewed the facts as to the beginning of the inquiry last fall and its interruption through legal proceedings. The Court said:

"The further and complete investigation of this matter has, therefore, been held in abeyance for some time, while a thorough study could be made in both the law and the facts as disclosed by the partially completed inquiry made by the grand jury which sat during the October term of 1920, and the Court is now able to inform you, gentlemen, that it is now the opinion of the Circuit Attorney that the State will be able to properly punish all those guilty of having violated the sanctity of the ballot."

Important Element of Time.
The court then mentioned the important element of time, to which attention was called last Wednesday in a Post-Dispatch news article. The court said:

"So that you gentlemen may appreciate the urgency of this matter the Court desires to call your attention to Section 145 of the Revised Statutes of Missouri, 1918, which provides, in effect, that at the expiration of 12 months after any election the Commissioners having custody of the ballots shall destroy the same—provided that no prosecution is pending at the expiration of this time, in which latter event the ballots shall be preserved until all prosecution in relation thereto is ended, inasmuch as the election in question was held on Aug. 2, 1920, this 12-months' period will expire on Aug. 2, 1921, and it is, therefore, necessary that your investigations into this very important matter be completed before the last mentioned date, so that the necessary evidence may be preserved."

"In conclusion," Judge Landwehr said, "the Court wishes to impress upon you that the certainty of honest primary and general elections is a matter of grave importance, and you should thoroughly investigate any evidence of fraud which may be presented to you, or which you yourselves can obtain, and should you be convinced that an indictable offense has been committed, you should not hesitate to do your full duty and see that each and every offender, irrespective of party affiliations, is brought before the Court so that justice may be meted out."

More Extensive Inquiry.
Assistant Circuit Attorney Parker, in speaking of the intended obtaining of subpoenas for evidence, indicated that the inquiry would be much more extensive than that of last fall, when 68 indictments were returned. Soiled of the river wards were not reached in that inquiry.

One of the first precincts into which the grand jury will inquire, it is believed, will be the Fifth Ward, the polling place of which is at 1213 North Taylor avenue. This is the precinct in which H. S. Feinstein served as a Republican Judge of election.

Sued as Private Voter.
When the ballot fraud investigation was in progress last fall, Feinstein went into court, through his attorney, P. H. Cullen, and sought an injunction to prevent the grand jury from investigating the return made in his precinct. He sued not as an election official, but as a

MORE EXTENSIVE INQUIRY INDICATED

Circuit Attorney Prepares to Call for Ballot Boxes Without Poll Books—Precinct Where Feinstein Served to Be Investigated.

Judge Landwehr this afternoon instructed the grand jury to resume the investigation into ballot fraud in the city and State primary of Aug. 2 last. The Circuit Attorney's office, anticipating this action, prepared today to apply for subpoenas for the production of ballot boxes and other official records, not including poll books, and it is expected that the inquiry will be begun actively Thursday afternoon.

SMUTS, IN DUBLIN, SEES DE VALERA AND GRIFFITH

South African Premier's Mission in Ireland Understood to Be to Discuss With Leaders Their Meetings Leading to Peace Conference.

SIR JAMES CRAIG GOES TO LONDON

Points of Agreement Reached at Session Called by De Valera to Pave Way for Negotiation of Peace in Ireland.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, July 5.—Conferences are under way in Dublin today between Gen. Jan Christian Smuts, the South African Premier, and prominent Irish leaders, says a dispatch to the Evening News from Dublin this afternoon. Gen. Smuts, who arrived in Dublin during the morning, conversed with Lord Mayor O'Neill, and afterward with Eamon de Valera, the republican leader, and Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein, and a member of De Valera's cabinet, the message states.

Gen. Smuts departed for Ireland last night. It is understood here that the purpose of his visit to Ireland is to confer with Sinn Fein and Unionist leaders of South Ireland preliminary to the resumption of their conference next Friday. The Unionists and Sinn Feiners held a brief meeting in Dublin yesterday and reports received here indicate that they reached an understanding as to matters to be discussed at future conferences.

The Dublin conference was the outstanding feature in London newspapers this morning, nearly all treating it sympathetically and expressing hope that it would lead to peace in Ireland. Comment on the meeting, however, was not devoid of remarks that the conference did not affect the progress of the Sinn Fein guerrilla warfare or crown forces there. An exception to the general trend of hopefulness was found in the editorial comment by the Morning Post, which opposed any concession to the Irish Republicans. It began its editorial by criticizing the Government's attitude of "caving in."

Great interest is felt in the mission of Gen. Smuts to Ireland, there being a difference of opinion as to whether it was prompted by the Government or undertaken at the invitation of Irish leaders.

Sir James Craig, Premier of Ulster, left Belfast for London today, and it is pointed out he will have abundant time to confer with members of the Government and others whom he may desire to consult, pending a decision by Eamon de Valera respecting the proposed conference of Irish Premiers with Mr. Lloyd George.

Earl Middleton, one of the four Southern Unionists who took part in yesterday's conference at Dublin, arrived in England last night and it is assumed he intends to confer with politicians here during the interval before the resumption of the Dublin conference on Friday.

Earl Middleton, when interviewed at Hythehead, declined to talk of the proceedings of the conference, saying the participants mutually had agreed to say nothing for publication at present, adding that, as far as he personally was concerned, he would say there was no reason to be dissatisfied with the progress made. He reiterated the statement issued at Dublin last night to the effect that certain decisions had been reached, but refused to indicate anything regarding their character.

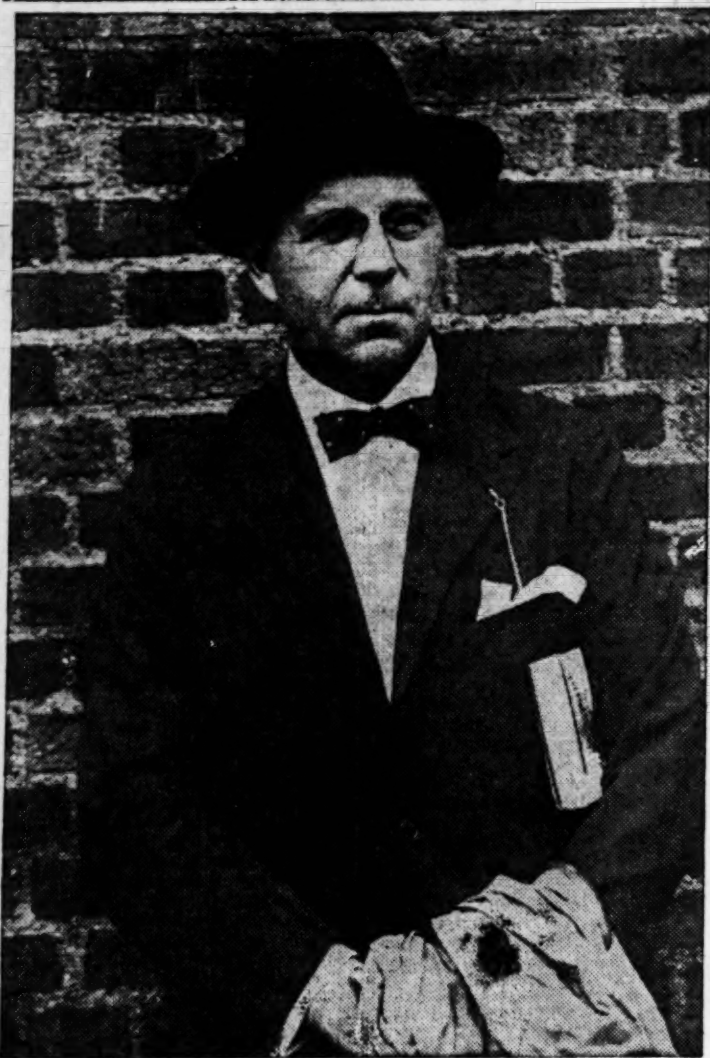

De Valera and Griffith in Three-Hour Session With Unionists.

DUBLIN, July 5.—For three hours yesterday Eamon de Valera, Irish Republican leader; Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein, and four Southern Unionists, Earl Middleton, Sir Maurice Dockrell, Sir Robert Henry Woods and Andrew Jameson, conferred on the Irish situation with a view to preparing the way for possible negotiations with the British Premier and the Ulster Premier, Sir James Craig.

Great crowds gathered outside the Mansion House, where the discussions took place, waving American flags, many falling on their knees and praying for the success of the conference. The Unionist representatives met with a cordial reception from those assembled.

Members of the conference were reticent regarding what took place, but points of agreement were reached on the financial question and the disadvantages of partition. Popular sentiment is very hopeful of peace. This hope was voiced by the Lord Mayor in a speech at a meeting of the Dublin corporation after the conference, in which he said he was breaking no confidence

Author of 400 Refusals to Answer

JAMES A. STILLMAN.

THE former president of the National City Bank in New York established a new mark, so far as the records show, when he uttered 400 successive refusals to answer questions put to him in a hearing before the Federal Reserve Board.

The case was the divorce suit he has brought against his wife, and the questions pertained to his own actions and affairs.

In a statement to the Associated Press yesterday an important official, in touch with all sides, asserted that the Government was prepared to make large concessions, the far-reaching effect of which De Valera would appreciate. He added that fears that De Valera would be hampered by physical forces were baseless.

The view is entertained here that Sir James Craig's absence from the conference may be even advantageous to negotiations. Since any concession necessary from the Ulster Premier in London, then Dublin, this view, however, is not shared by the members of the conference, who would have preferred that all Ireland should be represented.

An exciting incident occurred after the conference. A large Republican flag decorated with American emblems hanging from a window was removed by soldiers. A girl obtained the flag and escaped. Later the flag was hung from a rope across the street. Auxiliary policemen climbed to the roof and cut the rope; when the flag fell it was seized by watchers, but was recaptured by the auxiliaries. A shot was fired during the confusion and the girl was severely injured.

DISARMAMENT WAITS AMERICA'S ISSUES WITH JAPAN

cific has been the result of a steady growth of suspicions that the next naval war would be fought in the Pacific. On the other hand, it is also a fact that, instead of allaying apprehension in removing distrust, the transfer of the fleet to the Pacific has been looked upon by the Japanese as a move requiring further activity on their part and hastening their naval building program.

Meanwhile, in the field of diplomacy, several other moves have been made which have accentuated the fact that until the special problems existing between the United States and Japan are solved, the friends of disarmament will be hammering away at a stone wall. If anybody else in the administration except Ambassador Harvey had drawn attention to "perilous possibilities on the Pacific," the utterance would have been passed by without significance. But Ambassador Harvey has been entrusted with the very task of canvassing the sentiment of the other Governments concerning disarmament, and his conclusions, that apprehensions concerning the relations between the United States and Japan must first be dispelled before there can be disarmament, is looked upon today as the frank answer and key to the whole disarmament situation.

Shidehara's Statement.

The statement by Baron Shidehara, Japanese Ambassador to the United States, to the effect that the proposed Anglo-Japanese alliance was not intended as hostile to the United States, is a recognition by Japan of the sentiment which has been growing in the United States against the renewal of the alliance. The British Government has found it necessary to assure Canada and Australia that the Anglo-Japanese alliance does not require the British Empire to assist Japan in the event of a war with the United States. Indeed, there is no escaping the fact that both Great Britain and the United States would have no difficulty in coming to an agreement on the reduction of armaments expenses, if their respective relations with Japan could be placed upon a firm foundation of true friendship. The Japanese, however, are really more eager to renew their alliance with Great Britain than is apparent on the surface, and the British are unable to give a substantial reason for disarming without offending the pride of Japan.

If it were not for the peculiar situation that has arisen with respect to the refusal of the United States Government to enter the League of Nations, the problem might easily have been solved. The league itself does not recognize alliances, unless they are stripped of any offensive character and are plainly defensive.

But there is no nation in the present league which has sufficient interest at stake to question the propriety of the Anglo-Japanese agreement or its scope. The United States Government has not been consulted either by Japan or by Great Britain and there is no diplomatic way by which the Washington Government can interpose its viewpoint except through the press. The American Government has certainly not seen fit to encourage the idea of an Anglo-Japanese alliance and has on one occasion shown its displeasure that America was not being consulted.

Pledged Under Article 10. There is a growing curiosity in Washington to know why it is that both Japan and Great Britain, pledged by Article 10 of the League of Nations covenant to protect their respective territorial integrity "as against external aggression," should need a defensive alliance.

Friends of President Wilson who were at the peace conference say that Mr. Wilson really sacrificed his views on the Shantung question in order to make sure of Japan's entrance into the League of Nations. Several of them were absolutely essential to bring Japan within the jurisdiction of the league, so as to prevent a possible war between the United States and Japan. It was Mr. Wilson's idea that by making the Far Eastern problem a matter of common concern, there would be less chance of a conflict between any two nations over Japanese questions.

Inasmuch as America is not a member of the League of Nations, the Washington Government must seek through the avenues of diplomacy a way to insure peace on the Pacific. Secretary Hughes is bending all his efforts in that direction. But it has now been officially disclosed that disarmament will have to wait until diplomacy has tried its hand.

Four Drowned When Skiff Upset.

QUINCY, Ill., July 5.—Four persons were drowned in the Mississippi River here Sunday night when a skiff upset. The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Barden and two children of this city and Mrs. Barmar and child of Rushville. Barden saved his wife and one of his children, but the others could not be reached in time.

FIVE MEN DIE IN SHEET OF BURNING OIL IN INDIANA

Eight Deaths Result From Explosion in Standard Oil Company's Plant When Stills Explode.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 5.—Eight men are dead today, 36 others are injured, 10 so seriously that they may die, and property damage is unofficially estimated at $2,000,000 as the result of yesterday's explosion in the Standard Oil Co.'s refining plant at Whiting, Ind.

Two huge steel stills burst, the brick walls inclosing them crumbled and a sheet of burning oil and gas spreads for a radius of 200 yards, trapping the night force. Five men were burned to death, three died later in Chicago hospitals and the condition of 10 others is serious.

Most of those injured were caught in the shower of flame, but others were struck by the falling brick and steel walls of the stills.

Excessive pressure or a tiny leak of gas were the two probable causes of the explosion advanced by those familiar with the operation of the stills which are filled with crude oil under pressure in the manufacture of gasoline.

The first still to explode fell against the second, causing it to let go also. Fire ignited the wreckage and it was some time before some of the bodies could be recovered.

Doctors and nurses from surrounding towns were summoned and the injured were rushed to Chicago hospitals. Officials would not estimate the loss, but the stills are understood to have cost about $2,000,000.

SEVERAL ARRESTS IN LIMA AFTER FIRE AT GOVERNMENT BUILDING

Chief of Police of Peruvian Capital Says Blaze That Destroyed Relics Was of Incendiary Origin.

LIMA, Peru, July 5.—Police officials have placed under arrest several persons in connection with the fire which on Sunday swept the northwest wing of the Government House. Among those detained are two electricians reported to have been either repairing or installing wires on the roof of the executive offices early in the afternoon before the fire was discovered.

The Chief of Police declared yesterday that his inquiries indicated the fire was of incendiary origin, and that bombs either had been planted or thrown into the northwest wing of the Government House. Several persons have testified that they heard muffled explosions in the office of President Leguia, and found the room in flames.

Virtually the whole picture gallery in the diplomatic reception room, including portraits of early rulers of Peru, was destroyed, as well as the furniture, which dated from colonial days. The manifestation in honor of President Leguia, planned for Sunday night, to commemorate the revolution of July, 1919, was suspended upon orders from the Government.

BRITAIN TO END GUARANTEE OF PRICES TO FARMERS

President of Board of Agriculture Says It Is Impossible to Continue Subsidy.

LONDON, July 5.—The serious state of the country's finances was emphasized in the House of Commons last night when Sir Arthur Griffith-Boscawen, president of the Board of Agriculture, and Sir Robert Stevenson Hume, Chancellor of the Exchequer, admitted the impossibility of continuing the agriculture subsidy.

Both of them said, in effect, that the Government had decided it must get rid of every vestige of the war policy of control and subsidies. The president of the Board of Agriculture made his statement in moving the second reading of a bill to repeal the agriculture act passed last December, which grants minimum prices to the farmer for his products, and was estimated to entail a subsidy amounting to from £20,000,000 to £30,000,000 yearly.

Two huge steel stills burst, the brick walls inclosing them crumbled and a sheet of burning oil and gas spreads for a radius of 200 yards, trapping the night force. Five men were burned to death, three died later in Chicago hospitals and the condition of 10 others is serious.

INVESTIGATION OF PRIMARY FRAUDS IS ORDERED RENEWED

On the ground that the secrecy of his vote was threatened. It was believed that Feinstein represented others than himself in this proceeding, but this fact was never established.

Feinstein's counsel attacked the subpoena which had been directed to the Election Board officials, for production of the precinct ballot boxes and one record. He urged that the ballot boxes and the poll book, or numbered list of voters, would, if taken together, make it possible to disclose how Feinstein or any other person was voting in the election.

Investigation Was Interrupted. Feinstein's suit interrupted the work of investigation, which the grand jury had been carrying on.

However, the returns of 12 precincts in different parts of the city were examined, and 10 of them were found to have been grossly misstated in the returns. In the other two cases, the count was found to be correct.

In the 10 precincts, which were in nine wards, 59 judges and clerks, 30 Democrats and 29 Republicans, were indicted on charges of making a false count and return.

At least 16 of these defendants attacked their indictments on a point like that raised by Feinstein, and the indictments were quashed. Forty-two indictments are outstanding, but may be dismissed at any time. One defendant has died.

Vote to Be Kept Secret. As was told in the Post-Dispatch last week, the Election Board obtained the opinions of four lawyers to the effect that prosecutions could be carried on without use of the poll books, and that thus the objection raised by Feinstein and others could be avoided. The subpoena which the grand jury will issue in its new inquiry will demand production of the ballot boxes, but not of the poll books, so that it will not be possible to determine how any individual voted.

Several persons interested in clean elections have expressed the opinion that, as Feinstein blocked the investigation at the time when it might have been most effective, his precinct should receive first attention in the renewed investigation. This suggestion has been made to Circuit Attorney Siderer, and is believed to have impressed him favorably.

$5000 WORTH OF SHOES AND $950 IN CASH GONE

Brother-in-Law of Owner, Managing Store, Says Money Was Stolen From Unlocked Desk.

The theft of $950 in cash and shoes valued at about $5000 from William Marks' shoe store, 1530 South Broadway, was reported to the police today by William Sanders of 5114 Southwest avenue, who is managing the store while Marks is away on a vacation.

Sanders, who is Marks' brother-in-law, told policemen he discovered the theft when he opened the store this morning and found that a barred door had been forced open.

Policemen who went to the store found about 1000 paper boxes from which Sanders said shoes had been removed and carried away by burglars. The money, he said, had been taken from a desk which had been left unlocked.

CONFERENCE DISCUSSES NAVAL DEFENSE OF BRITISH EMPIRE

Dominion Premiers Hear Confidential Memorandum From the Admiralty.

LONDON, July 5.—Questions relative to the naval defense of the British empire were discussed at today's session of the imperial conference. Prime Minister Lloyd George and the Dominion Premiers resumed consideration of the subject where it was left off at yesterday's meeting.

Opposition to the discussion of this subject by Premier McKenna of Canada and others seemed to have broken down, and the Admiralty laid before members of the conference a confidential memorandum, which was understood to have been the basis of yesterday's debate. Naval authorities on the British Cabinet have been insisting that the dominions' contribution to the naval strength of the empire should be definitely fixed.

It was expected that at the conclusion of today's meeting an official summary of the proceedings would be issued to the press. Heretofore the conference has not made public any of the discussions that have taken place.

TRAIN HITS AUTO, KILLING TWO; ENGINE AND COACH DERAILED

ATLANTA, Ga., July 5.—Two men were killed and four injured when a Central of Georgia train hit an automobile early today at Tillman's crossing.

The tender of the train hit the automobile squarely in the middle, the impact being so terrific as to derail and overturn the locomotive, tender and one passenger coach. Fireman Emerson was caught beneath the engine when it turned over on its side. The injured trainmen were badly bruised when knocked about the overturned passenger car.

AMENDED PETITION ORDERED IN MEDICAL BILL REFERENDUM CASE

Judge Rules Signatures Objected to Must Be Specified Before Hearing Can Proceed.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, July 5.—Circuit Judge State of Cole County today decided that adherents of the medical college bill, which has been suspended by the filing of referendum petitions, must file an amended petition before their suit for injunction against the operation of the referendum can go further. Judge State also ruled that they must file a $5000 bond to insure the State against having to pay costs in the event the case is decided against the petitioner, Paul V. Kaesser of Wellington.

The petition, filed for Kaesser by former State Senator Buell Matthews of St. Louis County, contains charges that the petitions from the Fourth Congressional District, which bear 344 signatures, only 31 more than required, include 55 fictitious signatures, more than 50 that are illegible, 41 others that could not be made out and others improperly witnessed.

Upon motion of Albert Miller, Assistant Attorney-General, and Attorney Thomas Dumm of Jefferson City, representing the State, Judge State decided that Matthews must specify by name which signatures are referred to in his charges. He was given until Thursday to file the new petition.

DRAWN WEAPON ON POLICEMAN

Negro, Halted on Street, Produces Gun, Believed to Be in Port.

While Policeman Dependahl was searching two negroes at Ninth and Morgan street at 2:45 a. m. today, one drew an automatic pistol and pointed it at him. He pushed the second negro between himself and the pistol, whereupon the negro with the weapon fled.

In a pursuit of two blocks Dependahl fired five shots, several of which did not stop. His companion could give no reason for his presence on the streets at that hour of the morning.

RIVERS TO BE INSPECTED.

CHICAGO, July 5.—An investigation of irregularities in navigation regulations for rivers of the Middle West will be made by Capt. John O. Anderson and Capt. C. E. Fairchild, steamboat inspectors, who leave here on a three weeks' trip tomorrow. The inspectors will follow the drainage canal and Illinois River in a revenue boat.

FRENCH MAJOR SLAIN BY CIVILIAN IN BEUTHEN

Killing Follows Demonstration by Germans at Occupation After Departure of Poles

By the Associated Press. LONDON, July 4.—After the Poles left Beuthen, Upper Silesia, yesterday, says an Oppen dispatch to the Daily Mail, a French battalion entered the town amid a hostile demonstration by the German population. Later Maj. Montalieres of the French Army was shot dead by a civilian. The crowd is said to have shielded his assailant, who escaped.

Demonstrators at Beuthen Fired on by British Troops. By the Associated Press. PARIS, July 5.—The killing of Maj. Montalieres of the French army during a hostile demonstration by the German population of Beuthen, Upper Silesia, reported in foreign advice, has created a most painful impression in French official circles. It is indicated that the Poles had withdrawn from the town and British troops assigned to replace them had not arrived. The manifestants profited by this fact.

The Major was shot from behind. The British troops coming in were obliged to fire to disperse the crowd, and some of the demonstrators were killed.

Berlin Paper Says Beuthen Residents Were Acclaiming Allies.

By the Associated Press. BERLIN, July 5.—The version of the trouble at Beuthen, Upper Silesia, given by the Allgemeine Zeitung today, declares that the people of Beuthen began acclaiming the allies upon the Polish withdrawal, but that when the inhabitants started singing patriotic songs, the French attacked them with rifle butts. Some shots were fired, the account continues, a Major being killed and several Frenchmen wounded.

Twenty prominent citizens of Beuthen were taken as hostages.

DAMAGING TYPHOON AT MANILA

W. Cameron Forbes, Who Was Cruising, Believed to Be in Port.

By the Associated Press. MANILA, July 5.—A typhoon yesterday caused heavy damage in Manila and its environs. The city's power supply was cut off and the city was in darkness. Houses were unroofed and several small vessels in Manila Bay driven ashore. Street car service was paralyzed.

W. Cameron Forbes, a member of the mission which is investigating irregularities for President Harding, was cruising southward and is believed to have taken refuge in some port of the Island of Mindoro. No word has been received from Forbes since the typhoon broke, but all telegraphic communication has been broken by the storm.

In Manila the wind accompanying the typhoon reached a velocity of 80 miles an hour. No loss of life was reported.

MINOR ACCIDENTS AND SEVERE HEAT MARKED HOLIDAY

Temperature Reached Highest Point of Summer at 3 O'clock, Then Dropped 24 Degrees in Two Hours.

STRAY BULLETS INJURED SEVERAL

Disregard of City Ordinance Relating to Pistols Apparent — Storm Broke Up Meramec Canoe Parties.

The Fourth of July was marked by the most severe heat of the summer thus far, and by a number of accidents, none of them immediately fatal, which resulted from disregard of the city ordinances governing the use of explosives.

The temperature, which reached 85 degrees at 3 o'clock, fell suddenly an hour later, with the beginning of a violent storm. The mercury was at 71 at 4 o'clock. This storm was general through the city and the county, and canoe parties on the Meramec river were driven to land, some taking shelter from the rain, hail and lightning beneath their overturned canoes, while others ran to camps and cabins. Many who were still in bathing suits were chilled by the wind, and after the storm there was much for locker houses, where some had had the forethought to leave dry clothing for themselves.

Pistols Are in Evidence.
Reports on the day's accidents showed that the sale of blank cartridges and blank cartridge pistols has not ceased, although the police have made efforts to enforce an ordinance against sale of these dangerous articles. Besides those who fired blank cartridges, a number fired loaded revolvers. This is a violation of the ordinance against discharging firearms and several persons were wounded in this way.

By Colowick and his wife, Mrs.
Becky Colowick, of 1125 North Thirteenth street, were wounded by the same bullet which struck the body and the head of the husband. The bullet passed through the head of the husband and struck the wife in the back of the head. The husband was killed.

Edward Thomas, 8 years old, of 1332 Division street, was shot in the leg and Sam Kramer, 17, of 2103 Biddle street, was arrested on the charge of having fired the shot.

Charles Stewart, of 1346 Ohio avenue, was wounded in the head as he was standing in front of 2710 La-Salle street. The person who fired the bullet was not found.

Harry Jones, 21, of 2714 Howard street reported to the police that he was sitting in front of a pool hall at 3301 North Nineteenth street when he was shot in the shoulder. He was sent to the city hospital and a police investigation of the matter was ordered.

Lida Opperman, 6, of 4022 North Broadway, was burned about the face and hands by the explosion of a box of assorted fireworks into which a lighted stick of punk was dropped.

Edward Schmidt, 13, of 7920 Minnieda avenue shot himself in the right forehead with a blank cartridge wad. Anti-tetanus serum was administered to him at the city dispensary.

Harry by Cannon Cracker.
Martin Brandon, 11, a negro, of 20 North Twenty-third street, was seriously injured by a cannon cracker, his left eye being severely affected. He was taken to City Hospital No. 2. The sale of giant firecrackers is contrary to a city ordinance.

Sidney Hampton, 13, of 6827 North Market street was shot in the left hand with a blank cartridge wad.

Thirty-one other injuries, including three to adults, were reported to the police. A few of these are blank cartridge wounds, but powder burns from firecrackers were more numerous. Antitetanus serum was administered in cases where there was reason to be the danger that tetanus might develop, and it is hoped that this will prevent a fatal result in any case. It is realized, however, that there may be some accidents not reported to the police, in which serious results later.

MEXICAN IS KILLED BY MAN
WEARING U. S. ARMY UNIFORM

By Associated Press.
MEXICO, July 5.—Joe Mac-cabe, a Mexican customs officer, was shot and killed a few feet within the Mexican border here Sunday by a man wearing a United States army uniform. The man escaped.

MacCabe, it is said, halted the man as he crossed the border and searched him for weapons. The man drew a revolver and fired twice. He then fled to the United States side.

Amundsen Arrives in Seattle.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 5.—Rolf

arrived here last night from Nome, Alaska, where he appeared the middle of June, after leaving his schooner, the Maud, at Cape Serge, discovered by a broken propeller. Capt.
Amundsen said he still considered himself feasible the prospect to drift across the pole with the current, which he believes flows from Siberia to Greenland. He expects to remain in this country a year.

Former Duchess of Marlborough Who Weds Wealthy French Sportsman

MME. LOUIS JACQUES BALSAN.

CONSUELO, DUCHESS OF MARLBOROUGH, WEDS

Ambassador Harvey and French Representative at Marriage to Col. Balsan in London.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

LONDON, July 5.—Consuelo, Duchess of Marlborough, was married to Lieutenant-Colonel Louis Jacques Balsan of Paris at a West End register office here yesterday morning at the unusual hour of 8 o'clock. Half an hour later the religious marriage ceremony was performed in the chapel royal Savoy.

The sons of the Duchess, the Marquis of Blandford, with his March-ioness, and Lord Ivor Spencer-Churchill; George Harvey, the American Ambassador, Brigadier-General
Harvey, Gen. Vanderbilt, her cousin; Sir Charles Russell, her legal adviser, and Col. Falkland of the French embassy here, were among the few persons present. Ambassador Harvey, Gen. Vanderbilt and Col. Falkland were the witnesses at the register office.

The Duchess wore a simple frock of dark gray voile. Her hat of black straw was adorned only with large white roses. Save for a diamond bracelet, she wore no jewels.

At the religious ceremony the answer, "I will," by both the Duchess and Col. Balsan, was perfectly audible throughout the church. The most remarkable part of the whole event was the chaplain's address to the pair. Turning to the bridegroom, the chaplain said:
"My dear brother, let me congratulate you and let me tell you, although you know it already, how great is your good fortune. Our sweet sister has given you all she has to give, and she has given it purely out of love for you. You have been selected, of all men in the world, for such devotion, and nothing is so humble as when the love of a really great person is given to a man who is truly meek.
And I know you will always remember the sanctity and enormous privilege of such wonderful companionship, because when a woman like this gives herself she gives no small thing."

Then, turning to the Duchess, the chaplain said:
"My sister, God has brought you at last to peace. And after all the storms and struggles and difficulties, which some people have more than others in this world, He has brought you at last to a haven of rest, to new simplicity, to new cheerfulness."

The bride is the daughter of the late William K. Vanderbilt of New York. Col. Balsan, who is wealthy and popular in London and Parisian society, is devoted to sports. He was a prominent member of the French aeronautical mission here during the last days of the war.
This is his second marriage. He divorced his first wife.

The former Duchess obtained an order from the English courts in March, 1920, for the restoration of her conjugal rights, the usual preliminary proceeding to an absolute divorce. This order virtually commanded the Duke to resume marital relations with the Duchess. At the same time, the alternative of satisfying the court why he should not or opening the way to a complete averance of conjugal obligations. When he failed to do this after a lapse of six months, the Duchess petitioned the court for an absolute decree, which was granted Nov. 9, 1920.
The Duke was married in Paris a second time two weeks ago last Friday to Gladys Deacon of Boston.

MAN AND WIFE, EACH ABOUT 70, FOUND SHOT DEAD IN CABIN

Former Wounded Six Times and Latter Four, in Home at Omaha, Ark., Presumably by Robbers.

By Associated Press.
HOLLISTER, Mo., July 5.—The bodies of Herman Helmeke and his wife, each about 70 years old, were found Sunday in an isolated cabin in the hills near Omaha, Ark., just across the State line. The man had been shot six times and the wife four and authorities believe they were killed by robbers. Neighbors report having seen a stranger in the vicinity several days ago.

Although neighbors who discovered the bodies found the cabin apparently ransacked, it is not known what, if anything, was taken. Helmeke and his wife have resided in the neighborhood for several years.

Justifiable homicide verdict in shooting of man by deputy

Testimony Was That George Reithwein Had Become Crazy When He Attacked County Officer.

A coroner's verdict of justifiable homicide was returned today at the inquest over George Reithwein, 52 years old, a painter, who was killed in front of his home in Brentwood, St. Louis County, at 2 a. m. June 22
by Deputy Sheriff Floyd Fennell.

Testimony was that Reithwein apparently suddenly crazed, had gone into his daughter's room and attempted to choke Anna Jones, 19 years old, of Kirkwood, a guest of the daughter.

The Deputy Sheriff responded to a telephone call. He testified that Reithwein advanced on him, threatening to kill him, and put his hand to his hip pocket as though to draw a revolver. He said that when he fired Reithwein was trying to attack him with a hammer. Reithwein died at the city hospital Saturday.

CRUISER AND GUNBOAT ARE

cruiser Cleveland and the gunboat Sacramento have been ordered to Tampico, Mexico, to protect American interests in the event that they are jeopardized because of labor troubles growing out of the unemployment situation, it was said today at the Navy Department.

BOY'S DEATH BY AUTO, ACCIDENT

Driver Testifies He Was Going Slowly When Lad Ran Into Street.

A coroner's verdict of accident was returned today at the inquest into the death of Eugene Bense, 8 years old, of 3509 Lindell boulevard, from injuries received at 10 a. m.
Saturday when struck by an automobile driven by Joseph C. McGill of 3327 Albion place, in front of 3505
Lindell boulevard.

McGill testified that he was driving only about eight miles an hour when the boy ran out between two other machines in front of him. He was unable to stop before striking the boy, but stopped within the length of his machine. Ray Weinbrenner, a lawyer, and Henry Kath of East St. Louis testified that Mc-Gill was driving slowly.

Sheriff Back in Courtroom.

Sheriff Mohrstadt is moving from the first floor of the Times Building, Broadway and Chestnut street, to the basement of the Courthouse on the Chestnut street side, where the Sheriff's office formerly was. The office has been in the Times Building for 10 years. The rent was $2000 a year.
Mohrstadt, as soon as he took office, suggested that the change be made and the rent saved.

SHOT FIRED AT POLICEMAN DURING RAID ON HOTEL

Bullet Comes Through Window and Is Imbedded in Wall of Room at the La-Salle.

LIQUOR IS FOUND IN THREE ROOMS

Discovery Made by Special Detectives Who Visit Place
When Working on Recent Shoe House Robberies.

The police yesterday, in clearing up the recent burglary of two shoe houses, discovered quantities of liquor in three rooms of the La Salle Hotel, 510 Chestnut street.

In room 325, that of Benjamin Collins, 46 years old, they found a five-gallon jug, in which there was one gallon of whisky, and 27 quarts of whisky. While three special officers were searching the room a bullet came through an open window and imbedded itself in the wall. It apparently had been fired across an alleyway. Later the police found a bullet hole in the screens of room 321 and in the room a revolver with one discharged cartridge in it. They encountered Ben Matthews in a hallway and when they stopped him to question him about the revolver shot, he ran into room 329 and locked the door. The police forced the door and in the room found six gallons, five quarts and 20 pints of whisky and four quarts of gin.

Returning to the hotel last night, the police searched room 323, which, according to the hotel records, was that of J. Wasserkug, and found two five-gallon jugs containing alcohol, one five-gallon jug of whisky and nine quarts of whisky. In a room they found three gallons, four quarts, three pints and six one-half pints of whisky, a whisky gauge and a machine for putting corks in bottles. There also was a new trunk in the room fitted with a lock which the officers could not open. The trunk was confiscated and will be opened to day.

The police went to the hotel originally because Walter Cieselski, 20 years old, of 3859A Maffitt avenue, had told them that he had sold some of the shoes he had taken in recent burglaries of shoe houses to Collins, whose room was the first one searched.

Collins was arrested at Sixth and Hickory streets and declared that Cieselski had asked permission to leave some shoes in his office at room 20 in the Allen Building. Going to the office the police found a quantity of stamps and seven pairs of women's shoes which were identified as having been stolen from a Friday from the Vinsenhauer Shoe Co., 1211 Washington avenue. The search of Collins' room in the La Salle Hotel was made primarily to see if he had other goods stolen from the Vinsenhauer company or any of $200 worth of stamps stolen on June 15 from the Roberts, Johnson & Shoe Co., Fifteenth street and Washington avenue, burglary of which they said Cieselski had confessed. He also admitted, the police say, that he robbed the home of Mrs. Bon Ton Boenkers, 5044 St.
Louis avenue, on May 25, obtaining cash and some jewelry.

Robberies of Butcher Shop, Candy Store and Other Places Reported.

The butcher shop of Ted Boone, 4650 St. Louis avenue, was entered early yesterday morning and computing scales valued at $235, three butcher knives valued at $9, two spring chickens and a beef roast were taken.

At 11:15 p. m. a negro entered Miss Ingrid Kuhn's candy shop at 212
North Channing avenue and asked for 10 cents worth of candy. Then he drew a knife, took $9 from the cash register and escaped.

Two men entered the coffee house of Jacob Beishtein, 1501 Washington street, at 11 p. m., with revolvers and ordered the seven customers into a rear room. While one guarded them the other took $50 and a watch from Beishtein. The customers were warned that to follow them would mean death. They did not follow.

Two men halted Alfred Smith of 1739 Mississippi avenue at Mississippi and Park avenues at 2 p. m.
and asked him where he was going.
He said he thought he would go into the park. One of them hit him in the nose and knocked him down, and the other took a diamond ring which he was wearing in lieu of a scarf pin.

Thomas McKenna of 1111 North Seventh street was robbed of $6 and a watch at 10 p. m. at Sixth and Washington streets. Edward Pick of 2017 College avenue was robbed of $6 at 2 a. m. in front of 5329 North Twentieth street. John Mengerson, 3714 Lee avenue, was robbed of $6 and a watch at 1 a. m. at John and Carter avenues.

SAFES IN BAKERY AND PHARMACY ARE ROBBED OF $895

Thieves Make Biggest Haul at Drug Store in Metropolitan Building, Grand Avenue and Olive Street.

SALOON ALSO BROKEN INTO

Safe in Filling Station at Maplewood Is Blown and $55 Stolen by Men, Who Escape in Auto.

After robbers had "soaped" the cracks of the safe at the Metropolitan pharmacy, on the second floor of the Metropolitan Building, Grand avenue and Olive street, Sunday night, they discovered that the combination could be worked and did not blow the safe. The inner door was forced and the cash drawer smashed and $310 taken. The robbery was discovered by Jacob H.
Koch, 4919 Terry avenue, assistant manager, when he arrived at 9 a. m. yesterday. A rear door had been opened with a key. N. E. Williams, the proprietor, is sick in a hospital.

The Delmar bakery at 5667 Delmar boulevard was entered Saturday night. The combination of the safe was knocked off and the inner door forced and $85 in cash and checks for $186 taken.

A safe in the office of the Standard Oil Co.'s filling station at Manchester and Big Bend roads, Maplewood, was blown open at 4 a. m. today and $55 was stolen. The robbers left $145 in cash and several bottles of gasoline coupons.

The explosion was extremely loud and the front door of the safe was hurled through a window, 15 feet away. Patrolmen Jones and Rainey of Maplewood, standing five blocks from the filling station, heard the explosion, and reached the station in an automobile in time to see four men going west on Manchester road in a black touring car.

The patrolmen pursued the automobile about a mile, but did not overtake it. The robbers got into the office by "limbiking" the front door of the building.

At the Badacore saloon, 3204 Olive street, Saturday night, the combination of the safe was knocked off but the door resisted efforts to open it.

BOY KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT IN COUNTY

Girl and Two Women Also Hurt
When Machine Goes Over Embankment.

Daniel Isch, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Isch, living on the Geyer road, near the Big Bend road, in St. Louis County, was killed about 8 o'clock last night when an automobile driven by James Bernard of Alton, a friend of the Isch family, went over an embankment on Manchester road, east of Geyer road.

Mrs. Isch, who was in the machine, received cuts and bruises, and possible internal injuries. Ruth Houk, 10-year-old daughter of George W. Houk, 3811 Page boulevard, suffered a broken right arm and a broken right leg. Four other children and Mrs. Edward Clifford of 1806 Page avenue escaped with slight injuries.

Bernard, who is 28 years old, was visiting the Isch family, and took the two women and the children for a ride in the automobile of Chas. Chessen of Alton. Driving east on Manchester road he overtook a Templar roadster occupied by a man and woman of middle age and passed it. The driver of the roadster speeded it up and passed Bernard and abruptly slowed down, forcing Bernard to veer to the right to avoid colliding with it. There was not room between the roadster and the edge of the embankment for the large car to pass and it went down, turning over in the descent. The roadster did not stop.

The Isch boy was caught under the body of the car and almost instantly killed. The right arm and right leg of the Houk girl were pinned under the edge of the overturned car, which had to be lifted to release her. A physician, called to the scene, gave first treatment and the injured were then taken to the Isch home.

Coroner Brady is trying to learn the identity of the occupants of the roadster, and will delay the inquest while search is being made for them.

Bernard says he was not driving fast and was not racing with the roadster, as traffic was too heavy for that, even if he had been disposed to race.

A once-in-a-lifetime purchase—

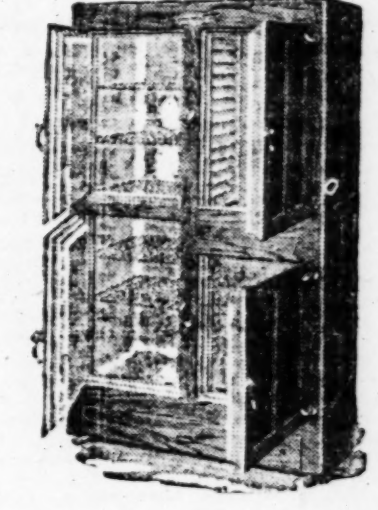

A Refrigerator is a once-in-a-lifetime purchase—if you buy a good one. And the thing to do is not only to buy a good Refrigerator—one that will last a lifetime—but to buy the Refrigerator that will cost you the least—per year.

THE Refrigerator that will cost you the least per year is the Bohn. Actual tests made with a Bohn Refrigerator of 100 pounds ice capacity prove that this Refrigerator maintains an unusually low temperature—42 to 45 degrees Fahrenheit—and uses an average of only 18 pounds of ice every twenty-four hours.

You can get a cheaper Refrigerator than the Bohn. But you can't get one that will give you the same satisfactory service at the same low cost per year. And that's the cost that really counts—the cost of ice.

Come in and see the various sizes and models of Bohn Refrigerators. Let us show you their eleven thicknesses of material in the walls, their easy-to-clean, seamless linings of enamel or porcelain, their beautiful exterior finish of hardwood or porcelain.

And let us explain to you on what easy terms you can buy a Bohn Refrigerator.

Detroit Jewel Ranges

Gas or Combination

It takes real skill to prepare a good meal. But all the skill in the world is of no avail if the cook-stove won't do its work properly. That's why so many good cooks use Detroit Jewel Ranges. They know that Jewel Ranges never fail. "They bake better," because they're made right. They have such perfect circulation of heat in the oven that they will bake satisfactorily even with the oven door open. Jewel Ranges are easy to operate, too; and economical of fuel. Their prices are moderate. You can buy one on easy payment terms.

IN CLOVER

That is where the cows that furnish the milk for CHILDS are now living.

And from fragrant fields to shining glass their milk remains as sweet as the clover,

For, every step of the way, it is so safeguarded that absolute purity is assured.

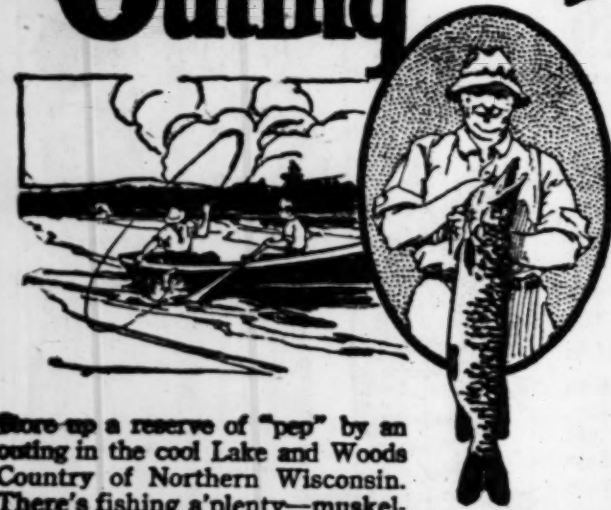

Being rich in butter-fat, it is rich in vitamins, which are so necessary to health.

Deliciously creamy from top to bottom, the glass the milk served at CHILDS is a perfect food-drink.

THREE DROWNED IN SWIMMING ACCIDENTS

Belleville Youth Sinks in Brewery Pond and Two Negroes Lose Lives in River.

Raymond Tribout, 20 years old, was drowned at 3:30 p. m. yesterday when swimming with five other young men in the Star Brewery pond, near the northern limits of Belleville.

The body was recovered by Eugene Harris, one of the swimmers, after about 10 minutes of diving. A Fire Department pulmotor was telephoned for, but the message was misunderstood and fire apparatus, but no pulmotor was sent.

Two St. Louis Negroes Perish When Caught in Undertow.

Two St. Louis negroes, members of a party which crossed the Free Bridge at noon yesterday for an outing on the East Side, were drowned at 1 p. m. in the Mississippi River, a short distance south of the bridge. They were Clarence Odell, 19 years old, of 1502 Papin street, and Thomas Gorea, 22, of 1513 Papin.

The men were said by their companions to be good swimmers. When they were seen to be in need of help two others of the party, Ely Jenkins and Jenkins White, swam toward them, but they found themselves struggling with a strong undertow and returned to the bank. The river is said to be more than 40 feet deep at this point. The bodies have not been recovered.

BURSTING OF BOIL BELIEVED TO HAVE CAUSED DEATH OF MAN

James McGrath, 49, Found Dead in Room in Rear of 2931 Chouteau Avenue.

An autopsy will be held to determine the cause of death of James McGrath, 49 years old, who was found dead at 5:30 a. m. today in his room in a building at the rear of 2931 Chouteau avenue. Two negroes who live on the floor above McGrath found him lying across a chair with blood on his body and on the floor. A small hole was found in the top of McGrath's scalp, which was at first thought to indicate a fractured skull. Police took the theory that McGrath had been murdered, but it was learned that he had had a boil on his head where the hole was found and had complained about this yesterday. It is thought that this burst and a hemorrhage resulted, causing death.

McGrath is survived by two brothers, Patrolman Thomas McGrath of the Laclede Avenue District, and Jerry McGrath of 3117 La Salle street, who owns the building where James McGrath lived.

SUPERB MUSIC IN "THE BEGGAR STUDENT"

New Municipal Opera Prima Donna Shows Technical Skill at Dress Rehearsal.

A week's festival of song is promulgated by Karl Millocker's comic opera, "The Beggar Student," which opens tonight at the Municipal Theater in Forest Park. Last night's dress rehearsal revealed one superb chanteuse after another, solos, duets and trios galore, and a duet in the second act, sung by Miss Rhoda Nickolls and J. Humbird Duffey, which is of sensational beauty.

Miss Anne Bussert, the new prima donna, who was a pupil of Jean de Reszke, showed a technical skill equal to the rapid and brilliant music which falls to her as Laura, heroine of the opera. James Stevens, as the hero, Symon Symonovitch, has a singing and acting part worthy of his admirable talents. The chief comedy role falls to Charles E. Gallagher, as Gen. Ollendorf, a pompous and timid brigadier. Frank Moulton has a smaller role as Euterich, a jailer.

Miss Mildred Rogers, as Countess Palmation, has her first singing part in two weeks, and Miss Rhoda Nickolls is Bronislava, one of her two daughters. Harry, Hermosen and Miss Elva Magnus appear as Saxon officers. Five members of the chorus have secondary parts, including Cora Alt and William Simmons.

The work has three acts, with two scenes in the first act. The initial scene shows the courtyard of a prison in Cracow, and the second a street fair, in which a "country bump" will discourse ecophony from the stage. The settings of the second and third acts are the same—the gardens of the Countess Palmation's palace.

This is the first work of the season with which most of the principals were not previously familiar. Not one of them, with the exception of Moulton, has ever sung it before, and that was yesterday.

Frank Mandeville, the musical director, is the only one familiar with the work, and last night he took charge not only of the music, but also of most of the stage direction. Hercule efforts have been expended to make the opening night performance a competent one, including an extra rehearsal of three hours yesterday morning at the Jefferson Memorial.

$200,000 GIFT TO COLLEGE
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 5.—A gift of $200,000 from the Rockefeller Foundation to Columbia College, a Catholic Institution in charge of priests of the Archdiocese of Dubuque, Ia., was announced yesterday by the Rev. J. C. Stuart, president of the college.

The college was founded in 1873. In the last year there were 697 students. The Rockefeller gift is the largest single one ever made to the institution, although several years ago a permanent endowment fund of $1,000,000 was raised.

Uncle Fred had a pet hobby.

"Soda glasses," he said, "should be sterilized thoroughly in boiling water. The average soda fountain can't take the time."

He offered a remedy. "Serve sodas in individual paper cups. That'll protect the public. 'Private cups in public places' is my slogan."

Yet right in his own office there was but one glass. Every Tom, Dick and Harry mouthed it. Is there any surer way of catching a cold or a worse illness?—Ask your doctor!

KEOKUK POWER

Keokuk water power—66,000 horse power daily—bought at a very low price under a 99-year contract, helps Union Electric Light & Power Company earn the 7% dividends on its preferred stock shares now on sale.

Union Electric's Keokuk power contract, assuring the dam builders enough yearly income to pay interest on the $15,000,000 bond issue with which their work was started, made the great dam possible.

Union Electric sells the bulk of the Keokuk dam's power output in the St. Louis district at rates so low that cheap electric power is one of St. Louis' chief attractions for new industries.

Invest for SAFETY and as high an income rate as you can get WITH safety. Union Electric 7% preferred stock, selling at $100 a share and paying $7 a year in cash dividends on each share—$1.75 every three months—meets both of these tests.

Moreover, in case of need, it is always quickly saleable at $100 a share, through our Securities Department, free of cost to those who buy it from the Company.

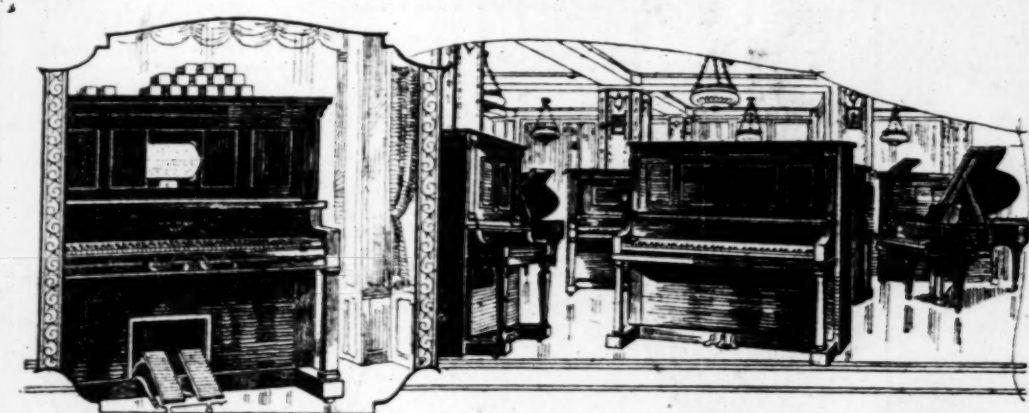

SALES OFFICES
Room 201 Union Electric Bldg., 12th and Locust Sts. and 3151 South Grand Ave., St. Louis, and Union Electric's offices in St. Charles, Franklin, Jefferson and Perry counties. Mail orders filled promptly by registered letter. Telephone: Main 3220 (Bell); Central 3530 (Kinloch). Send us your address and let us send you full details of this investment.

OLD-FASHIONED FOURTH
FOR ARMY OF OCCUPATIONSeveral American Soldiers in Coblenz Suffering From Burns From Firecrackers.

COBLENZ, July 5.—An old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration was observed by the American Army of Occupation. Last night the main thoroughfares of Coblenz were lit with the scattered fragments of burned-out fireworks and firecrackers.

crackers, and several of the soldiers were suffering from burns. Private Charles Sadovsky, Fifth Infantry, was severely burned when firecrackers he was carrying in his blouse exploded. Corp. Bert Murray of Headquarters Detachment received burns about the eyes and face, and several others had to have burns on their hands dressed at infirmaries. Two fires, neither of them serious, are said to have been caused by sparks from the fireworks. A monster display of fireworks at Fort Ehrenbreitstein ended the celebration.

Mother! look at

Child's tongue

Give "California Syrup of Figs" only—Say "California"

Hurry, mother! A teaspoonful of California Syrup of Figs today may prevent a sick child tomorrow. Your child is constipated, bilious, nervous, fretful, has a cold, colic, or stomach is sour, tongue coated, breath bad, remember a good laxative is often all that is necessary.

Children dearly love the delicious, "fruity" taste of genuine "California Syrup of Figs" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits. Mother, you must say "California." If you don't say "California" you may get an imitation fig syrup.

EMOTION IS TENSE
IN "REPUTATION"

"The Lost Romance," "Scrambled Wives" and "Sham" Among Local Attractions.

Priscilla Dean has one of the most dramatic of her long line of emotional roles in "Reputation," the week's bill at the New Grand Central and Capitol. Here she has a double role which in point of fact involves the depicting of four well-defined characters. She is first a famous actress at the height of her popularity and power, and later that same actress after she has been horribly transformed and degraded by dissipation. Also, in turn she is that actress' daughter in the innocence and charm of her boarding school days and later as an actress who, ignorant of the relationship, takes her mother's place on the stage. The return of the mother from London and her invasion of the daughter's dressing room at the theater are dramatic steps leading to a thrilling climax in which the mother kills the villain under circumstances which make it appear that he died by the daughter's hand. It is all a trifle tense for hot weather, but it gives Miss Dean a good opportunity to use her mobile features in the interpretation of many fine shades of emotion.

Lois Wilson in "Lost Romance," "The Lost Romance," at the Missouri Theater, is the first of Edward Knoblock's original motion-picture dramas.

The cast is good, the action moves smoothly and connectedly, the photography and the furniture are excellent. The story is a no less familiar tale than this: A young woman, choosing between two likely suitors, succumbs later to the boredom of matrimony, and concludes that she made a mistake. The rejected lover returns, and she plans to go with him, when the apparent kidnapping of her child reveals to her that she really loves her husband.

For those who relish seeing "Fatty" Arbuckle in one of his old comedies, there is a real treat on the program in the revival of "Our West." "Convincing again over this ancient burlesque, one can but continue to marvel at Arbuckle's recent transition to conventional roles.

Marguerite Clark in "Scrambled Wives."

Marguerite Clark returns to the screen in "Scrambled Wives," which is the principal feature of the bill at the West End Lyric and Lyric Skydome. This is a farce which had some stage success and it is even better in its screen form. It is a domestic tangle story not too seriously handled, the keynote being a series of deceptions in which everybody concerned has a skeleton in the closet and is trying to conceal it from everybody else. A notable feature is the introduction of several beautiful scenes in color.

Ethel Clayton in "Sham."

"Sham," with Ethel Clayton, will end a four-days' run at the Kings tomorrow night. In the cast besides Miss Clayton are Theodore Roberts and Walter Heirs. This is an amusing play in which the heroine loves a poor man, but consents to marry a rich one because she needs money to pay a staggering aggregation of debts resulting from her extravagance. At the last minute she changes her mind and plans to sell the family pearls to pay her debts and then marry the poor man. The element of climax enters when experts examine the pearls and find them to be imitations of no value. There is well-developed suspense as to which suitor the girl will accept, but an unexpected turn of fortune determines her choice in a way that leads to a happy ending.

$30,000 MORE NEEDED BY THE PROVIDENT ASSOCIATIONPresident of Organization Issues Statement on Relief Work for Present Fiscal Year.

The St. Louis Provident Association still needs $30,000 to meet the actual necessities until Oct. 31, the end of the present fiscal year. Joseph D. Bascom, president of that organization, issues this statement: "Finances are still a very serious problem with the association. Our available funds will be exhausted in four weeks. At a special meeting of the Board of Directors, held Friday, it was unanimously decided to vigorously continue an effort to raise necessary funds to meet the needs of the thousands of persons who will be dependent upon the Provident Association until fall. We dislike to continue our appeals throughout the entire year, but we have no other recourse. These helpless people must be cared for and our means of doing so is through the contributions of charitably inclined citizens. We are having to stretch every dollar we get so as to make it do the work of two. Relief expenditures have been reduced to a minimum in order that all who need help may get it. I sincerely hope that those who have not given will send in a contribution, and those who have given will send in an additional contribution to help out in this emergency."

WOULD NOT LIVE WITHOUT WIFE

Despondent because of the recent death of his wife, Albert Moorman, 37 years old, of 2643 Ford avenue, St. Louis County, an engineer, ended his life at 12:10 a. m. yesterday with poison at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Edna Alford, 5627 Parkridge avenue. He left a note to his father in which he stated he could no longer endure life without his wife.

Unemployed Man Ends Life.
Peter Schneider, 62 years old, a widower, of 3192 Leeper street, shot himself in the head at 5:30 o'clock yesterday morning at his home and died two hours later at the city hospital. He lived with his daughter, Mary, 20 years old, who attributed her father's deed to his being out of employment and the fact that he had been partially paralyzed for 10 years.

Like Lemonade

Ask for "Epsom Salts" hereafter

A few cents buys a handy package of "Epsom Salts" which looks like a glass of lemonade, and acts exactly like epsom salts. It is real epsom salts combined with fruit derivative salts, giving it the taste of sparkling lemonade. A tablespoonful in a glass of cold water whenever you feel bilious, headachy or constipated, will give you a splendid epsom salts physic without the awful taste and nausea. "Epsom Salts" is the much talked of discovery of the American Epsom Association.

To Make Hairs Vanish
From Face, Neck or Arms (Beauty Culture)
Keep a little powdered deodorant hand and when hair growths appear make a wash with it of 10 powder and a little water, then spread over hair surface. After 2 or 3 minutes run a wash cloth over it and it will be entirely free from hair or blisters. This simple treatment is painless, but care should be exercised to be sure and get genuine deodorant, otherwise you may be disappointed.

July Reduction Sales

$65,000 Worth of Summer Merchandise Positively Sacrificed!

Without a doubt the most sensational sale in years. It's beyond mere words and cold type to describe it. Every garment in our entire store, regardless of cost and profit, offered at the most marvelous sacrifices. Nothing excepted. So absurd are the prices, it's an utter impossibility to judge the values unless you see them. AND YOU MUST SEE THEM. Only then will you be able to realize the sensational character of the savings. Read every item, then be here when the doors open at 9.

ACCIDENT VERDICT IN DEATH OF DR. McELWEE

Physician Ran in Front of Street Car, Passenger on Front Platform Testifies.

A Coroner's verdict of accident was returned today in the case of Dr. Lucien C. McElwee, 55 years old, of 1221 North Grand avenue, who died Sunday night in Barnes Hospital from injuries received when he was hit by an eastbound Olive car at Pendleton avenue a few hours earlier.

The principal witness was Andrew Deschner, 1905 Blair avenue, a passenger on the front platform of the car. He said Dr. McElwee was running from the north to the south side of Olive street, apparently intending to board the car. The motorman reversed the power, and Dr. McElwee nearly got clear of the tracks, but the trolley caught his foot, and he was pitched to the curb, the witness said.

Dr. McElwee was returning home from evening services at St. George's Episcopal Church, and the accident occurred almost in front of the church. He was taken to Barnes Hospital, where it was found that he had suffered a fracture at the base of the skull, caused by his fall. Thomas Lasco, the motorman, of 5025 Enright avenue, and John N. Bayless, the conductor, gave bond and were present at the inquest, but upon advice of counsel did not testify.

The funeral will be held at the First Christian Church, Delmar boulevard and Pendleton avenue, at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow. Dr. Ernest Miller, the pastor, will conduct the services. Knights Templars will have charge of the exercises at the grave in Valhalla Cemetery.

Dr. McElwee was born at Mount Gilead, Ky. He received his early education in Lincoln County, Mo., where he later taught school. He received his doctor's degree in medicine in 1882 from the Missouri Medical College. In 1888 he began practicing in St. Louis, specializing in surgery. He married Miss Hallie Barnes in 1891.

Kansas Wheat Exceptionally Good. WICHITA, Kan., July 5.—With threshing practically general throughout Kansas with the exception of the Northwestern parts, yields of wheat are greater than expected. Fields producing as high as 47 bushels to the acre are reported from the Valley Center vicinity and Liberal reports 43 bushels near there.

Nature uses saliva to preserve the teeth

Listerine Tooth Paste makes the saliva flow

THE reason is simple: this tooth paste contains a mild fruit acid that makes your "mouth water."

If you should remove the saliva from the mouth all the teeth would decay; the tooth paste that increases the saliva is best for the teeth.

Try this—put a little baking soda in your mouth, it's alkaline (the opposite of acid), and note how it dries things up. Now put in your mouth a drop or two of lemon juice and watch the saliva come back and surround the teeth with its protecting covering.

Nature's way is best

LISTERINE
TOOTH PASTE

is Nature's helper. Not only good, but pleasant.

COL. ROBBINS MISTAKEN FOR HIGHWAYMAN, SHOT

Slightly Wounded When He and Son Failed to Heed Command to Halt at Bismarck.

Col. Leroy K. Robbins, 48 years old, of 5609 Cates avenue, was shot in the right side of the face at Bismarck, Mo., 79 miles south of St. Louis, about 7 o'clock last night when he and his son, Leroy S. Robbins, were mistaken for highwaymen and failed to halt when commanded to do so by City Marshal Charles Huff. Col. Robbins suffered a flesh wound, which is not believed to be serious. He is at the Frisco Hospital here.

A. L. Hahn, station agent for the Bonne Terre branch of the Iron Mountain Railroad at Doe Run Junction, about 10 miles south of Bismarck, was held up in his office at 4 p. m. by two men wearing soldiers' uniforms and tan shoes. They took his watch and $28, later returning the watch.

Wore Army Uniforms. Col. Robbins and his son had been spending the week-end at the Colonel's goat farm at Doe Run, two miles from Doe Run Junction, and, having missed a St. Louis train on the Belmont branch of the Iron Mountain, decided to walk to Bismarck and there take a Bonne Terre train. They wore army uniforms and tan shoes.

As they approached the station at Bismarck, their uniforms were noted and word was sent to City Marshal Huff. He ran to the station in his shirt sleeves. His Marshall's badge was pinned to the front of his vest. He called to Col. Robbins and the latter's son to throw up their hands. The command was ignored and Marshal Huff fired.

W. O. Chalk, station agent at Bismarck, accompanied Col. Robbins to a hotel, where the latter remained until the arrival of an early morning St. Louis train. He told Chalk that, having been an army officer, he was not accustomed to taking orders from anyone but superiors and that was the reason he had refused to put up his hands or halt. He said that he did not know Huff was an officer and was ignorant of the fact that a robbery had been committed.

Hahn was taken in an automobile to Bismarck and after viewing Col. Robbins and the latter's son said that they bore no resemblance whatever to the robbers.

Did Not Enter Junction. City Marshal Huff explained that the fact that Col. Robbins and his son were walking to Bismarck from the direction of Doe Run Junction, in addition to the fact that they wore army uniforms, made him suspicious. Col. Robbins, however, in leaving Doe Run, had not passed through Doe Run Junction.

Col. Robbins was Lieutenant-Colonel of the First Missouri Infantry until we entered the war when he became Colonel of the Fifth Missouri Infantry, which he helped to organize. When the latter regiment was consolidated with the First Infantry into the 138th Infantry, he was transferred to the command of the Sixty-second Infantry at Spangsbury, S. C.

Balloonist Forced to Leap, Killed.

By the Associated Press. SPRINGFIELD, O., July 5.—Roy Walther, 26 years old, of Flint, Mich., a balloonist, was killed here yesterday afternoon when his parachute failed to open after he had been compelled to leap from his balloon, scarcely 100 feet from the ground, when fire threatened to destroy it. His father, who witnessed the accident, said he had been making ascensions since he was 11 years old.

COMPOSER AND AUTHOR DIES

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, July 5.—Announcement was made yesterday of the death on June 27 of Frank Stam-mers, well known in the theatrical world as a composer and author.

Stammers died at Roosevelt Hospital from typhoid pneumonia and was buried at his summer home at North Brookfield on Wednesday. He was the author of many librettos and vaudeville sketches, and had composed the music for a number of musical comedies.

Stammers in 1909 was musical director of a season of comic opera at Delmar Garden. Several of his musical comedy sketches have been seen here on the Orpheum vaudeville circuit.

YOUTHS MADE 365-MILE TRIP
IN A CANOE FROM CHICAGO

William H. Hedges and Companion Break Five Paddles on Rocks on 12-Day Journey.

William H. Hedges, 18 years old, son of Isaac A. Hedges of Glendale, and Clarence B. Hershberger Jr., 17 years old, of Chicago, arrived here yesterday noon after a 12-day trip from Chicago in a 16-foot canoe in the Chicago River, Chicago Drainage Canal, Illinois River and Mississippi River. They bore a letter from Mayor Thompson of Chicago to Mayor Kiel announcing the "Pageant of Progress Exposition" to be held in Chicago July 30 to Aug.
14. They took similar letters to Mayors of 11 other towns past which they paddled.

The trip was made partly to advertise the all-water route between St. Louis and Chicago. Hedges' father, who is manager of the Cupples Station property of Washington University, and a party of friends met the youths in a motor boat at Alton and accompanied them downstream.
The canoe is of wooden construction and is named "Dot" for Hedges' sister, Miss Dorothea Hedges. The youths broke five paddles on the rocks during the trip, which was 365 miles.

Stolen Auto Is Wrecked.

An automobile belonging to Edward Cunningham, 1211 Chambers street, stolen from in front of his home at noon yesterday, was wrecked a half hour later when one of four men in the machine lost control of the steering wheel and the machine ran over the curb and into a pole at Seventh and Poplar streets.
The men jumped out and escaped.

Legion Band Plays at Hospital—Red Cross Serves Refreshments.
More than 650 disabled soldiers, patients at the United States Public Health Service Hospital, were the guests at an entertainment held at the hospital last night. The Red Cross furnished refreshments and fireworks, while the American Legion band contributed the music.

In an address urging the soldiers to keep up their morale while in the hospital, Probate Judge Holtcamp related a number of his experiences while participating in the Spanish-

American War. Four hundred patients were served refreshments last night. On account of the rain, which prevented them from leaving the building, the bed patients were served today.

"Don't rub your youth away!"

RUBBING on the washboard for hours each week makes a woman grow old faster than any other work she has to do.

Today hundreds of thousands of women are saving themselves this needless drudgery. They have learned to let Rinso take the place of all those hours of exhausting work.

Rinso is made by the makers of Lux, the largest soap makers in the world. After years of experimenting, they have perfected a soap product which takes all the hard rubbing out of washday.

Rinso loosens and dissolves the dirt from even the heaviest pieces of the weekly wash, without injury to a single fabric.

Don't rub your youth away. Try doing next week's washing with Rinso. Get it today from your grocer or any department store. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

WASHING MACHINE OWNERS get beautifully white clothes with Rinso—follow the regular directions given here, adding a fresh Rinso solution before operating machine. The results are wonderful.

Rinso 8¢

Then let your clothes soak—and rinse without any hard rubbing—Soak one hour—two hours—overnight—whatever time is convenient. These wonderful mild acids loosen every particle of dirt.
Rinso, to remove the loosened dirt, till the water runs clear.

DISSOLVE—For each tub of clothes thoroughly dissolve a half package of Rinso in two quarts of boiling water. (Where water is hard or clothes extra dirty, use more Rinso.)

POUR INTO TUB of lukewarm water—mix well. Keep adding the solution until you get a good, rich, lasting, soapy suds even after the clothes have been put in.

HAYS PLANS CHANGES IN POSTAL SAVINGS SYSTEM

He Wants to Get in Circulation "Billion Dollars in American Stockings."

By the Associated Press.
SULLIVAN, Ind., July 5.—A billion dollars which should be in circulation to assist the coming industrial revival is being hoarded in American stockings, Will H. Hays, Postmaster-General, declared Sunday, in announcing plans for revision of the postal savings system to make it more attractive to potential depositors.

Through his reorganization plans, Hays hopes to draw the hoarded wealth of the country out of its hiding places and into useful channels. The present treatment of depositors in the postal savings bank, he said, after conferences with Middle Western bankers, amounts "almost to fraud," while the Government has profited at the expense of the depositors to the amount in the last year alone of $1,720,000.

Plan Approved by Bankers.
His general plan of reorganization, which will be submitted to Congress, has been approved by bankers of the East and Middle West at conferences held in Washington, New York, Terre Haute and at his home here. Hays assured the bankers that he had no intention of entering the postal savings banks in competition with private savings banks, but rather hopes to make it a valuable feeder of established banking institutions. While asking Congress to make the interest rate double the average paid now, he pointed out it would still be below the average paid by the majority of savings banks.

Private banks cannot hope to reach the vast hoarded wealth which offers a particular field for postal savings expansion, Hays said. He pointed out that 70 per cent of the present $58,000 depositors are of foreign extraction, and that they, as well as others of their countrymen, who are accustomed to postal savings systems abroad, will trust no one but the United States Government.

Basic Changes Proposed.
To reach this field of potential depositors, Hays plans the following basic changes in the present postal system:

1. Increase the interest from 2 to 3 per cent.
 2. Payment of interest on deposits held less than one year.
 3. Removal of the restriction against depositors under 10 years of age.
 4. Provision for bank and trust funds.
 5. Establishment of postal savings banks in 50,000 postoffices instead of the present 9300.
 6. Compensation for fourth-class Postmasters on the basis of the deposits they handle.
 7. Redeposit of the funds in local banks with more liberal qualification rules for such depositories.
 8. An enlarged Board of Directors, including a representative of the Federal Reserve Bank and possibly one or more civilians.
- The Postmaster-General declared that the hundreds of thousands of postal savings depositors are practically being defrauded because their certificates specifically state that 3 per cent interest is paid on deposits and do not state that nothing is paid on deposits held less than one year. Because of this system, he says, the average interest paid on all money held was only 1 1/4 per cent.

SHIDEHARA DENIES PLAN OF HOSTILITY AGAINST AMERICA

The Japanese House of Representatives on Feb. 4, 1922.
"As far as I understand, when article IV of the treaty (Anglo-Japanese alliance) was inserted, the United States was specifically in mind, and therefore, as a practical matter, the question whether the general arbitration treaty mentioned in article IV has been ratified by the United States Senate or not, makes no particular difference. In other words, looking at the matter from a broad point of view, we can safely say that already at the time of the conclusion of the treaty (Anglo-Japanese alliance) it was understood that there should be no application of this treaty to the United States.

"Two Affiliations Essential."
Japan is naturally anxious to strengthen the ties of friendship and loyal co-operation between herself and the British Empire, which she regards as of the utmost importance to the stability of the Far East. At the same time, it is the firm and fixed determination of Japan to permit nothing to hamper her traditional relations of good will and good understanding with the United States. She is satisfied that these two affiliations are in no way incompatible, but, on the contrary, complementary and even essential to each other.
"Charges have sometimes been made that the alliance tends to encourage aggressive designs on the part of Japan in China. If this were the case, it would be contrary to the principle of the agreement, which provides for:
"The preservation of the common interests of all powers in China by insuring the independence and integrity of the Chinese Empire and the principle of equal opportunities for the commerce and industry of all nations in China."
Japan fully realizes that any such venture of aggression would be not only hopeless of attainment, but destructive of her own security and welfare. She sincerely wishes for China and early achievement of peace, unity and stable government. She desires to cultivate her relations with that country along the path of mutual respect and helpfulness. Her vast commercial interests alone, if for no other consideration, point unmistakably to the wisdom of such a policy. This is a basic principle of the Anglo-Japanese alliance. In no adverse direction has the alliance ever exerted its influence."

CANADA'S DEMAND

funding of the war loan. That money was lent to England, not Canada, and must be repaid by England at the expense of British, not Canadian taxpayers, yet is Canada to have the final voice on the terms of amortization? A case the other way is the development of the St. Lawrence and of the water power of Niagara which involve questions of frontier obviously domestic to the United States and Canada alone. British control here would be manifestly an interference.
The crisis could have been avoided, so I cannot but think had not England been preoccupied with troubles in Europe, not all of which were her concern, and with even more disastrous troubles with labor and Ireland. I do not believe, however, that we shall see any break-up of the British sovereignty, for nobody wants this to happen. What has been struck is a blow to British imperialism as displayed in various benevolent enterprises, calculated to annoy as well as to help, and involving the dominions in unmistakable liabilities. There is profound mistrust of Mr. Churchill, who is not apparently permitted (through Colonial Secretary) to handle or even address at any length the imperial conference. And there is—let us be thankful for it—an utter repudiation of the notion that any policy is in the interests of the British Empire which even appears to conflict with the interests of the United States.

Talk of the Town

The New Improved Gillette

Patented January 13th, 1920

Seldom does the camera owner realize how many inventors contributed their work to make a snap-shot possible! Scheele, Archer, Fry, Maddox, King, Kennett—followed by the scores of men who perfected the celluloid film, opening up photography to everybody everywhere.

IN your home, your office, or factory, your work or your sport—nearly everything you use is the combined result of many different inventors and discoverers.

Not so your New Improved Gillette!

The New Gillette is the creation of the same group of men who have served the world with Gillette Safety Razors and Blades for nearly twenty years.

It brings to you the latest, the finest, results of Gillette experience and factory resources.

Through the long-established Gillette Organization, it reaches every nook and corner of the Civilized Globe.

Never has any human need owed so much to a single source as shaving owes to the Gillette Organization.

Never was a success more dramatic or more complete.

The Gillette has seen three hundred makes of razors flare up—only to flicker out. It has seen imitations—and the imitations harmed nobody but the men who tried to use them.

Now the New Improved Gillette brings the era of micrometric precision in shaving.

Go to your druggist, hardware merchant, jeweler, sporting goods dealer, haberdasher, or men's department—any one of 250,000 Gillette dealers the world over.

Ask to see the New Improved Gillette Safety Razor.

It will not take you long to realize why men all over the world are discarding their present razors even old-type Gillettes for this new and higher shaving service.

NOTE:—The Gillette Company assumes full responsibility for the service of Gillette Blades when used in any GENUINE Gillette Razor—either old-type or New Improved Gillette. But with IMITATIONS of the genuine Gillette, it cannot take responsibility for service of Blades.

These surpluses cannot be reported except on credit. These credits cannot be granted, however, necessary they are, until there is greater political, financial and social stability in many countries of Europe. This stability will be greatly helped by a clear, fearless, and honest policy of the necessary basis of credit laid down by the great assembly of bankers and business men at this meeting of 1936.

Hangs Himself With Clothes Line
Michael Grossinger, 54 years old, of 4718 Michigan, recently hanged himself with a clothes line in the basement of his home at 7 o'clock last evening. He was found there by his wife. GIRLS! LEMONS
WHITEN THE SKIN

Recipe for Bleaching Lotion
Which Does Not Irritate

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.

HERNSTEIN RESIGNS POST AS TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION HEAD

President of No. 8, Who Held Office Since 1908, Is Succeeded by Percy Pepon.

Charles J. Hertenstein, chairman of the Efficiency Board, resigned Sunday as president of St. Louis Typographical Union No. 8, at a meeting of the union held at 3535 Pine street. He had held the office 13 years.

The resignation was accepted, and Percy Pepon, a proofreader in the composing room of the Globe-Democrat, was elected president to succeed Hertenstein. The latter explained that his resignation was due to the fact that he was unable to devote all his time to the union's work. He said he would remain a member of the Joint Standing Committee, which meets with the publishers on questions arising under the terms of labor contracts.

Hertenstein has been a member of No. 8 for 25 years. He was elected president in 1908 and was re-elected each succeeding year. Pepon has represented the Typographical Union as delegate in Central Trades and Labor Union since 1899. He lives at 1766 Mississippi avenue.

HEINZ

OVEN BAKED BEANS

with Tomato Sauce

Good news from the kitchen! A fragrant whiff that adds zest to the appetite! A foretaste of what's coming! The assurance of a delicious meal—all ready to eat in just no time at all!

Heinz Baked Beans are good, rich, meaty and wholesome because they are oven baked. This preserves the real bean flavor and the real bean nutrient, and thus gives you the most food value for your money.

Blended with the rich oven baked bean flavor is the delicious tang of the Tomato Sauce made famous by its use in the preparation of some of the "57".

So the good news "from the kitchen" is really from the spotless kitchens of Heinz.

MAN, WHO FORFEITED BOND IN 1919, CAUGHT

Alleged Burglar Served in Navy During War and Brought Home French Bride.

Leroy Berger, alias Boersch, 29 years old, for whom the police have been searching since May 22, 1914, when he forfeited a $1500 bond in the Court of Criminal Correction under a charge of burglary, was arrested by detectives last night at High and Wash streets.

He told the police that since his disappearance from St. Louis he had served in the navy, and that, upon his return to St. Louis about a month ago, he had brought with him a wife whom he had married in France. The police went to an address on Blair avenue which he gave and there found a Frenchwoman, who could speak no English, with two children. Berger said that he had been unable to find work since returning. Several inexpensive articles of women's jewelry and skeleton keys were found in his pockets.

Berger was arrested on May 10, 1916, on a charge of burglary of the home of Mrs. Charles Christman at 3515 Michigan avenue. A watch, which was identified by Mrs. Christman, fell from his trousers' leg when he was taken into custody.

Last year, the police were informed that Berger had been killed in a gang fight in Chicago. They caused the body of the man buried as Berger to be exhumed, and found that it was not that of Berger.

100 Degrees at London, Ontario.

By the Associated Press.
TORONTO, July 5.—The hottest day of the year was felt throughout Canada last night, with numerous deaths from heat prostration here and in other cities. London, Ontario, reported that the mercury reached 100 degrees. The heat, unaccompanied by rain, is causing considerable apprehension in some parts of Canada, due to the danger of forest fires. Many small fires have been reported in the northern part of Ontario and a great deal of valuable timber is being destroyed.

Riot on Beach Over Bathing Suits.

The Greatest Shaving "Mileage"

RAZOR blades should be bought like tires—for the "mileage" they give. The longer a blade lasts the less it costs you per shave. Because Durham-Duplex blades give more shaves than any other blade, over nine million men with an eye to economy are enthusiastic users of the

These men have discovered that the remarkable shaving "mileage" of Durham-Duplex blades spells Comfort as well as Economy. For a blade that shaves you again and again without losing its keen edge is a blade that doesn't "rasp" or "pull."

See America this Summer!

—recreate in the biggest vacation land in the world; realize your vacation hopes and dreams—THIS summer.

"Hit the trail"—West! Make 1921 the red-letter year of your life's vacation calendar!

Our West is the world's greatest outdoors. It's your country—get out into it—know it—feel it!

Stand on top of Pike's Peak and look off at the rest of the world, and experience sensations not to be described in words.

Rest in Rocky Mountain National-Estes Park—that wild and beautiful immensity of healthful outdoors.

Go motoring through the thrilling canyons on the Cody Road and past those soul-stirring scenes in Yellowstone National Park.

Bless your eyes with a sight of that emerald gem of the Northern Rockies, entrancing Lake St. Mary in Glacier National Park.

Get acquainted with the "charmed" land of the Pacific Northwest: see Puget Sound—the American Mediterranean; explore the great perpetual ice-caps of old Mount Rainier.

Take that indescribable "look" down into Crater Lake—Nature's unmatched spectacle.

Stroll amid California's Big Trees—the oldest living things.

Enjoy the wondrous colorings in Zion National Park.

Take a dip in Great Salt Lake—higher than the Allegheny Mountains and seven times larger than Palestine's Dead Sea.

Stop-off in Mesa Verde National Park—"The Land of the Past"—containing the best-preserved prehistoric ruins in America.

14,922 IN "WET" PARADE; 202,670 WERE PLEDGED

Tabulation of Marchers in New York Made by Adding Machines for Anti-Saloon League.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 5.—Prohibition organizations are on the watch lest sentiment favorable to repeal of the eighteenth amendment be exaggerated. The Anti-Saloon League announced today that it had employed accountants to make a careful tally by adding machines and other counting devices of everybody in the holiday "wet" parade on Fifth avenue and that there were actually 14,922 persons in line, including 922 bandmen and 24 policemen.

The organizers of the demonstration telegraphed United States Senators Wadsworth and Calder that "the remarkable anti-prohibition parade of over 100,000 good citizens" would support them in opposition to the Volstead act. Pledges from men and women to march had totaled 202,670, the promoters said.

Parade "Wet" With Perspiration.
But, anyway, several thousands yesterday raised a terrible thirst tramping up Fifth avenue. The anti-prohibition demonstration and others packed the sidewalks for more than two miles to cheer them.

It was called a wet parade, and it was wet—soaking wet—from perspiration. The afternoon was one of the hottest of the year, a scorching sun shining down through a humid atmosphere that carried scarcely a whiff of breeze.

Mayor Hylan smiled and sweated in the sea of honor in the reviewing stand at Madison Square. Each group greeted him with complimentary outbursts as they passed by. The native-born addressed him belligerently and intimately and every now and then somebody would loudly inquire if the Mayor didn't long for a schooner of lager on such a hot day.

Few Women in Line.
The foreign-born—and they made up a big percentage of this demonstration against dryness—always addressed the Mayor by his title, or as "Mister Hylan." Some of the marchers wore banners which called on all to witness "the outrage on personal liberty" against which they persisted in protest.

Not a few women and children participated in the parade. They were outnumbered by the masculine marchers, however, that it seemed manifest that the male of the species is more thirsty than his mate. Everybody in the line had an American flag, and many more miniature liquor bottles appropriately inscribed and pinned to their lapels.

There were more than 300 organizations in line, about 100 of them Italian, those in charge announced. Bands played drinking songs and songs dedicated to the absence of drinks.

$11,632 FROM FINES AND BOND FORFEITURES FOR SCHOOL BOARD

Sum for Six Months From Circuit Court for Criminal Causes Is Unusually Large.

A check for $11,632, representing fines and bond forfeitures in the Circuit Court for Criminal Causes for the first six months of 1921 was mailed to the Board of Education today by the Court Clerk. The sum is unusually large due to a forfeiture of a $5000 bond by George W. Beatty, an aviator, on a charge of wife and child abandonment, and frequent recent fines for carrying concealed weapons.

The sum paid to the Board of Education for the first six months of 1920 was $5062 and for the last six months $2285.

MAN SHOT IN THE SHOULDER

Edward Lauth, 44 years old, of 2910 Olive street, a paperhanger, was shot in the shoulder and his wife, Florence, 36, suffered a cut on the wrist last night during an argument in John Williams' saloon at 2924 Olive street.

Lauth and Williams, the police say, had a fight a week ago, but apparently forgot their troubles until last night, when Lauth and his wife visited the saloon. Lauth asked Williams if he had "had enough" last week. This renewed the fight. Williams said Lauth made a move to his hip pocket and Williams grabbed up a "billy" and attempted to hit Lauth. Mrs. Lauth interfered and was hit on the arm. Williams then ran behind the bar and got his revolver, shooting Lauth in the shoulder. Both Lauth and his wife were taken to the city hospital. Williams, who is 51 years old, was arrested.

Uncommon Sense—By—JOHN BLAKE

IF INTERESTED OR YOU'LL NEVER BE INTERESTING. UNINTERESTING people are always uninteresting people. If you cannot interest yourself, you cannot interest others. And your chances of getting along in this world depend pretty largely in your ability to interest others.

The most interesting people in the world are those who are successful in doing important things. No man can successfully do an important thing unless he is enthusiastically interested in it. He can, if he has such an interest, communicate at least a part of it to others. In that way, he can attract their attention, and usually excite their admiration and trust.

Christopher Columbus would never have discovered America had he not become tremendously interested in the belief that the world was round and that it would be possible, by circumnavigating it, to find the rich Indies that lay on the other side.

He succeeded in infecting rich people, and finally the Queen of Spain, with this interest. She supported him with the funds to make his first voyage.

But his job was not done with this. He had constantly to keep his crew interested in his plans, during many long weeks of sailing over uncharted seas. He had even to make their interest triumph over their fear, and a man has to be interested indeed when he can accomplish such a miracle as that.

If you are tremendously interested in what you are doing, you can invariably arouse the interest of others in it. When you have done that, you have won them, as every salesman will tell you.

WHAT we call personality is the quality of arousing interest in others. The dull, apathetic, listless chap who pays no attention to his surroundings and has no thought but getting through his day's work in the easiest possible fashion never impresses his fellows. It is work or at play, he is just an average man, neither to be cultivated or avoided—a man without personality and without interest.

The job hunter who for an instant's time can persuade a prospective employer that he is interested in what he wants to do will get the job. If it is there. The man who wants merely because it will keep him out of the porhouse will never get it unless there is a heavy shortage of men.

It ought to be easy to become interested in this world, for it is filled with tremendously interesting things. Pick out one of them, and study it. The study will develop your interest, and your efforts will, if they are sincere enough, interest you. Then you can interest others. That is the way to success in that event you will have no further need of lying awake at night to wonder what is to become of you.

PREPARING CHERRIES FOR WINTER USE

CHERRY ancient quip, "Cherries up, cherries down," is one more to the point. The tasty red globes, classed by science among the berries, reputed by the U. S. Medical Department to "calm excitability," are just what the doctor ordered for the youth from Japan to Hackensack, are again on the market.

But the cherries of this year, like the grapes of the fable, will be sour. The cherry producing districts report practically no cherries of the sweet variety. Fortunately there will be a fair supply of the sour ones, and those who buy early will indulge as their appetite for spiced cherries, pies and tart sauces.

A good crop of sour cherries is reported in Michigan, Wisconsin and Western New York. Although the yield will not equal the usual crop, the cherries will be of the tart variety, and will be priced lower than last year. They will be in big demand for canning and preserving, and those who know advise the housewife to buy as soon as they appear. It is predicted that the first of the crop will be prime.

An unusually delicious kind of preserved cherries may be prepared as follows: To each six pounds of tart cherries allow the rind of three lemons, simmering the latter ten minutes, then straining off the water. In the meantime cut fine the lemon pulp, freeing it from seeds and heavy "rag." Make a syrup of sugar to one pint of water, using the water in which the lemon peel simmered. Skim, and add cherries, letting boil ten minutes. Add the lemon pulp and boil three minutes longer, then put fruit in jars, pouring over it the hot syrup.

Canning cherries select the sour variety. Allow three-fourths of a pound of fruit for each pound of sugar. Wash and dry the tomatoes, then slice them and sprinkle with salt. Let them stand over night, then drain and put them into a porcelain-lined pan. Now add the vinegar, salt, and spices and boil for one hour. Seal in jars.

Raisin and Green Tomato Sweet Pickle

TWO pounds Sultana raisins, 1 peck green tomatoes, 1 cup salt, 1 quart cider vinegar, 4 cups sugar, 2 tablespoons whole allspice, 2 tablespoons whole cloves, Wash and dry the tomatoes, then slice them and sprinkle with salt. Let them stand over night, then drain and put them into a porcelain-lined pan. Now add the vinegar, salt, and spices and boil for one hour. Seal in jars.

CAN YOU BEAT IT?

THE THOROUGHbred—By Bruno Lessing
A Short Story in Two Daily Installments

MOTT, in moments of enthusiasm, would boast that his wife was a thoroughbred. He had once been interested in breeding horses, and the terms had retained a place in his vocabulary. He was a good-natured, easy-going individual, not particularly brilliant, and above all, neither keenly analytical in his thinking process nor finicky in his use of words. When he called his wife a thoroughbred he meant it for a compliment. The trouble about it was that he was right and never knew just how thoroughly right he was.

Those who know horses will tell you what splendid qualities ensue from long and careful breeding, such as strength, beauty, endurance, spirit and vitality. Your poor, stodgy work horse has none of these. Yet the work horse is patient, and plods and drudges, takes things as they come with a sort of fatalistic philosophy, accepts the good of life while he stolidly ignores the bad, and, while he never rises to great heights, has the compensating consolation of never sinking to great depths. Whereas the thoroughbred, keyed to a high tension, is startled by his own shadow, jumps at a sound, trembles under restraint, and spends practically most of his life in a state of quivering nerves.

Mrs. Mott was a thoroughbred. Sensitive, proud and refined, her life had fortunately been sheltered from every disturbing influence. Fate had dealt gently with her. She had not the faintest idea of how she would act under the stress of powerful emotion, for the reason that the depths of her emotions had never been stirred.

The Motts had been married six years, and had a single child, Lucille, who was five years old, the idol of her parents. It had been a happy marriage, or, rather, to be exact, it had been a tranquil and contented marriage. Mrs. Mott was as devoted to her husband as she felt a woman could possibly be. She loved his cheerful disposition, his kindness and his tenderness to herself. Probably, if you had asked her what she admired most in her husband she would have told you that it was his trustworthiness.

From which one might have deduced that Mrs. Mott was inclined to be selfish, the quality which appealed to her most being the one which gave her the greatest comfort. Of her devotion to her child, however, there was no question. It must, furthermore, be added that Mrs. Mott was 26 years old, slender and exceedingly pretty.

It all began upon an evening when Mott, detained by an engineering problem at the office of the steel company, telephoned to his wife that he would not be home until late and suggested that, after Lucille had been put to bed, his wife call upon a friend of hers who lived in the neighborhood. It happened that this friend—Mrs. Morris—was giving a party that evening, and there Mrs. Mott, for the first time, met Franklin Elder.

Even as he clasped her hand Mrs. Mott discerned the manner of man he was—handsome, charming, selfish, unscrupulous and indiscriminately amorous. His adroitness amused her. He held her hand just long enough and pressed it just tenderly enough to convey to her the impression—his eyes aiding and abetting the communication—that she appealed to him. A whole volume can be expressed in a single handclasp. She smiled charmingly, and promptly dismissed him from her mind.

It was nearly an hour later when, seated alone upon a sofa, she saw him approaching. He seated himself at her side and plunged headlong into an amusing tirade against social functions which soon had her laughing. Then her husband came to take her home, and she introduced him to Franklin Elder.

The Elder type is too common to merit many words of description. Men who pursue their illicit diversions methodically, without even passion as an excuse or pretext, to whom no human ties appeal, and who, often under a pleasing exterior, conceal the ruthlessness of a beast of prey, are, unfortunately, familiar to every community.

Two days after Mrs. Morris' party that Mott came home quite excited.

"Do you remember that chap Elder we met the other night?" he asked. "Well, today he was elected a director of our company. He came into the office and shook hands with me. I'd like to have him up for dinner some night."

Within a few weeks Elder had become a frequent visitor at the Mott household. Mott, who was entirely without guile himself, liked him exceedingly. Through Elder's influence he had been promoted to a more lucrative position, and he felt under deep obligation to him. Often, when he called, he found Mrs. Mott alone, and yet, in looking back to it all in after years, she could never remember that he had had word or act open to her feelings toward her.

She found him congenial and attractive, and as long as he kept his thoughts and desires to himself she had no fault to find with him. Lucille, her little daughter, was devoted to him. Elder had managed to ingratiate himself into the child's affections. Once he brought her a doll.

"The day before your birthday," he said, "if you'll remind me, you and I will go shopping and buy the doll new clothes. But you mustn't tell anybody. That'll be our great secret."

And now Fate, probably feeling that the married life of the Motts had been entirely too serene, decided capriciously to take a hand in their affairs. Andrew Mott telephoned to his wife that he would not be home for dinner.

"But we've asked Mr. Elder for dinner tonight," protested Mrs. Mott. "Awfully sorry, Katherine, but I'm up to my neck in things," replied her husband. "I'll get home as early as I can."

It never occurred to her to inquire why he could not come home. She took it for granted that his office work required his attention. The idea of dining alone with Elder did not appeal to her, and she decided to invite Mrs. Morris. She was unable to find Mrs. Morris' telephone number, and, remembering that her husband kept a list of the telephone numbers of all their friends, she called up his office.

"Mr. Mott has gone for the day," for a long time she sat beside the telephone receiver, thinking. Her husband had never taken him outside the office before. Where could he have gone? If something unusual had arisen, why had he not told her? She did not like it. Furthermore, she made no other attempt to obtain Mrs. Morris' telephone number.

That night Elder made strenuous efforts to create a pleasing impression, and succeeded admirably. He pictured that he drew his loneliness touched her sympathy. Had he cried aloud, "It is you whom I want; only you can fill the void in my life!" he could have made no clearer to her side and plunged headlong into an amusing tirade against social functions which soon had her laughing. Then her husband came to take her home, and she introduced him to Franklin Elder.

THE COURTLY HUSBAND

By SOPHIE IRENE LOEB

THEY called him courteous. For he smiled always and never failed to do the kind thing. And they envied her, his wife. To have such a man for husband. But down deep in her heart of hearts she knew, as no one else could know, his sarcasm and satire.

The weary nights of waiting for his return on pleasure bent. The bitter words, the frigid frowns. The cutting glances that were hers. To whom he showed no courtesy or consideration.

She knew, as no one else could know. He sang the chime of cheer to all who came his way. But to her the wall of weariness. He was not unlike the wolf within the sheep without.

And the wee ones, too, felt the sting. Inside his walls he was master. And outside the slave to those he sought to please. But the day came when she left And returned to where he had wooed and won her.

The man was stunned. He did not dream she had courage to stand alone. And thought she would return ere long—but she did not. He sought the friends he had tried to please.

And to whom he had played the cavalier. But he could not stand the test. For the more of him they saw. The more he showed that other side. And soon they would have none of him.

And some there were who told him. Time, too, took a hand and taught him. And he learned to understand before it was too late.

That the husband worth while is he who never fails to do the kind thing. To show the same respect to the One Woman. As he does to every woman.

give it to him. And he just brought back a paper as was in the pocket. It was a bit of pink letter paper that the maid laid in Mrs. Mott's outstretched hand, and it reeked of cheap perfume. The writing swam before her eyes. In the twinkling of an instant the opening line, and then the signature seemed to leap from the paper to her brain.

"You poor, silly boy," it began, with "just because you're married" close upon it. And it was signed "Alice."

Almost mechanically Mrs. Mott handed it back to the maid. "You had better leave it on Mr. Mott's desk," she said. And then she noticed, however, was that she seemed worried and ill at ease.

"Are you feeling all right?" she asked. "Fine," he replied. "Only I've got a few things on my mind."

The fact that her husband had thought which he was keeping from her annoyed Mrs. Mott, or, rather, she was annoyed because he had told her that he had such thoughts without telling her what they were.

When Mr. Mott came down, she was annoyed because he had told her that he had such thoughts without telling her what they were. And then came the second prank of Fate.

Mott went to his room, saying that he had some work to do. His wife remained in the sitting room reading the evening newspaper. The telephone at her side tinkled faintly, and, thinking it was about to ring, she felt under deep obligation to him. Often, when he called, he found Mrs. Mott alone, and yet, in looking back to it all in after years, she could never remember that he had had word or act open to her feelings toward her.

"Are you there, Alice?" "Yes. We were cut off," replied a woman's voice.

"Now, I want you to listen carefully," she heard her husband say. "This business has got to stop."

Mrs. Mott listened no further. She restored the telephone to its hook and sank back in her chair. She felt sick. She tried to think, but her faculties were benumbed. When Mr. Mott came down, she said to the maid, "tell him I've retired. I have a headache."

All that night she tossed about her bed, wondering what it was all about, worrying because her husband had secreted which he did not share with her, fearing the worst, realizing for the first time in her life how much she loved him, suffering all the pangs of jealousy, and, above all—and that is what happens to thoroughbreds—all a-quiver with the rage that is born of outraged pride.

Redhead the Woodpecker Escapes

About the only enemy we will have to watch out for here is Black Pussy the Cat.

me about the safest place we have yet found. About the only enemy we will have to watch out for here is Black Pussy the Cat. My how I hate cats!

Redhead nodded. "I do, too," said he. "But after all, they are rather stupid things, and if we watch out sharp enough we should have no trouble in keeping out of Black Pussy's claws. Hawks are the ones I fear most. I don't believe we will have much trouble from them here. It is too near Farmer Brown's house."

Now it happened that Sharpshin the Hawk, one of the members of the Hawk family most feared by small feathered folk, had started out early that morning and took it into his head to have a look around the home of Farmer Brown, for he is bold, is Sharpshin. Like all other members of the Hawk family, he has wonderful eyes, and when he yet a long way off he saw Redhead sitting on that post.

Now, it is doubtful if Redhead would have seen Sharpshin at all had it not been that Scrapper the Kingbird over in the Old Orchard was watching and saw him coming. At once he screamed a warning to all his feathered neighbors. Redhead heard that warning and wondered what could be going on over in the Old Orchard. He looked over in that direction and then—well, for just the teeniest, weeniest fraction of a second, his heart almost stopped beating with fright. Heading straight for him at wonderful speed was Sharpshin the Hawk.

Pedhead flew with all his might straight into the nearest tree where the branches grew most thickly. He didn't have time to pick his way among them. He just flew blindly, trusting to luck that he would get in where Sharpshin could not follow him. As it was, he was just in the very nick of time, for Sharpshin swept past, brushing the leaves of the tree, and so close that his outstretched claws just touched Redhead's tail. Redhead had escaped.

When Redhead flew with all his might in among the thick growing branches of that tree to escape from Sharpshin the Hawk he had no time to pick his way. He simply dashed into them blindly. The result was that he struck his head against one branch and one wing against another. The bones of the wing were not broken, but it was so badly strained that he couldn't use it, and he fell to the ground.

Had Sharpshin hung around there watching for a few minutes more, Redhead would never have been told. But he didn't hang around. When he missed Redhead by almost nothing at all he didn't stop. He kept right on. He knew he couldn't get Redhead in among those branches and he knew that Redhead wouldn't come out for some time. Waiting around there would be waste of time. So Sharpshin kept on in his swift flight to look for a breakfast elsewhere.

For a long time Redhead lay quiet just where he fell. It was cool down there in the grass, for the dew of the night would never have been told. But he didn't hang around. When he missed Redhead by almost nothing at all he didn't stop. He kept right on. He knew he couldn't get Redhead in among those branches and he knew that Redhead wouldn't come out for some time. Waiting around there would be waste of time. So Sharpshin kept on in his swift flight to look for a breakfast elsewhere.

Stories Told by the Great Teacher

By Rev. Thomas B. Gregory

The Pharisee and the Publican. NEVER read the story of the Pharisee and the Publican—Luke XVIII, 10-14—without being forcibly reminded of Lincoln's world-famous "Gettysburg Speech."

For brevity, compelling logic, simplicity yet powerful eloquence and completeness of idea and statement, the Martyr President's speech and Jesus' story of the Pharisee and the Publican stand together, without peers or even rivals.

What a consummate artist Jesus was! What a word-painter! With Jesus' story in mind, we can see the very orthodox and (in his own opinion) immaculate Pharisee, striding in stately dignity up to the temple. His robe, perfect in material, cut and embellishments, is tightly held by the jeweled hands of the wearers, lest it should come in contact with something unclean, and, reaching the sanctuary, he stands proudly erect, expands his chest, throws back his head (casting side glances the meanwhile to ascertain if anyone is observing his highness) and proceeds to congratulate himself upon his perfect righteousness and his exalted standing in the eyes of the Almighty.

He knows that when he dies wisdom and virtue will die with him; and his chief concern is to get through with the negotiations with heaven by which the calamity of his departure from earth shall be at least partially mitigated.

And while this spotless gentleman is thus engaged with himself and his perfection, there quietly slips into the temple a poor Publican—one of the Roman tax collectors. Stopping "afar off" from the altar, as though afraid to come near the holy place, he drops his glance to the floor, beats his breast in his contrition, and cries out: "God be merciful to me a sinner."

The Pharisee, having exhausted his vocabulary of self-praise, and finished his turkey-gobbler strut before the Almighty, takes a fresh grip on the folds of his robe, lest they become defiled by the touch of things unholly, and retraces his steps out of the house of God.

Following him, but well behind him, comes the Publican, his eyes still looking downward, his hope still trembling lest his prayer should not be heard.

And strange to tell—stranger than the crassest romance to the "uncle gold" of Christ's day and our day—the Pharisee went out scorched and ruined by his own malice, while the poor Publican "went down to his house" with God's forgiveness, making music in his heart like a caged full of songbirds!

As a master of artistic execution there is nothing to be found elsewhere in literature, sacred or profane, to equal this little 145-word story.

Read the story slowly, carefully, with your thinking cap on, and answer the question for yourself.

came noon and noon became afternoon, and afternoon drew near to evening. All that time Redhead had had nothing to eat. Because of his pain and his lack of food he was weak, and all the time was growing weaker. You remember he had had no breakfast.

Poor Redhead! He was in great trouble, and the worst of it was he could see no way out of it. Sooner or later Black Pussy or Reddy Fox or Jimmy Skunk would be sure to come prowling that way, and if he hadn't starved to death before then that would be the end of him.

He tried and tried, but he didn't have strength enough to climb the trunk of that tree. Each time he fell back and for a while lay panting. He was too weak. Lack of food had taken his strength. And all this time he hadn't been discovered by anybody. Redhead was just about ready to give up.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By James J. Montague.

THE SAFEST WAY OUT.

When tidings ran around the land
That King Canute had said,
That he could stand beside the strand
And stop the waters dead.
The English, Irish, Welsh and Scotch Across the country swarmed,
And stood along the shore to watch
The miracle performed.
And when he didn't even check
The onrush of the tide,
His jeering subjects said, "By Heck!
It looks as if he lied."
And yet Canute the while they gloated, Forgot to say: "I've been misquoted."

When Ananias and his wife
Conspired with the devil
To lead a sort of business life
Not strictly on the level,
And Peter caught them in a deal
And asked them roundly why
They loved to gouge and cheat and steal,
They merely sought to lie.
And as a logical result,
As doubtless you have read,
The lightning, like a catapult,
Came down and struck them dead.
They never thought, to dodge their fate,
To say: "We were not quoted straight!"

We've learned a lot since those old days;
When great men say things now
Which, on their publication, raise
The thunder of a row:
When over-freely-flowing words,
At dinner tables tossed,
Like curses and domestic birds
Come clucking home to roost,
The man who says them never squirms
And never bats an eye.
But in aggrieved and peevish terms
He pulls his alibi.
"I'm fearfully abused," wails he,
"The papers have misquoted me!"
